The Honorable John Garamendi
U.S. House of Representatives
2368 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Colleague:

Pursuant to House Rule 25, clause 5(d)(2), the Committee on Ethics hereby approves your and your spouse's proposed trip to Kenya,<sup>1</sup> scheduled for April 18 to 25, 2022, sponsored by International Conservation Caucus Foundation and Conservation Council of Nations (d.b.a. the ICCF Group).

This approval represents the Committee's determination that the proposed trip complies with relevant House rules, federal laws, and Travel Regulations promulgated by the Committee. You should engage in your own assessment of the risks and implications of engaging in travel during the current COVID-19 pandemic.

You must complete a Member/Officer Post-Travel Disclosure Form and file it, together with a Sponsor Post-Travel Disclosure Form completed by the trip sponsor, with the Clerk of the House within 15 days after your return from travel. As part of that filing, you are also required to attach a copy of this letter and both the Traveler and Primary Trip Sponsor Forms (including attachments) you previously submitted to the Committee in seeking pre-approval for this trip. You must also report all travel expenses totaling more than $415 from a single source on the "Travel" schedule of your annual Financial Disclosure Statement covering this calendar year. Finally, Travel Regulation § 404(d) also requires you to keep a copy of all request forms and supporting information provided to the Committee for three subsequent Congresses from the date of travel.

Because the trip may involve meetings with foreign government representatives, we note that House Members may accept, under the Foreign Gifts and Decorations Act (FGDA), gifts "of minimal value [currently $415] tendered as a souvenir or mark of courtesy" by a foreign government. Any tangible gifts valued in excess of minimal value received from a foreign <sup>1</sup> Please be aware that the Committee's review of the proposed trip does not extend to either the security situation in the destination country or security related to foreign travel in general. We recommend you contact the Office of House Security (OHS) for a safety and security briefing prior to your departure. OHS may be reached at (202) 226-2044 or ohsstaff@mail.house.gov. House travelers should also register for the U.S. State Department's Smart Traveler Enrollment Program at <https://step.state.gov>.

government must, within 60 days of acceptance, be disclosed on a Form for Disclosing Gifts from Foreign Governments and either turned over to the Clerk of the House, or, with the written approval of the Committee, retained for official use.

If you have any further questions, please contact the Committee's Office of Advice and Education at extension 5-7103.

will also go over the trip itinerary with participants and answer any questions.

5:00 - 7:00pm      Afternoon briefing in the field with park staff on the importance of biodiversity & habitat protection to poverty alleviation and sustainable economic development

As the world population grows to over 9 billion in the next 40 years, the demand for food, water, and energy will double, further testing nature's ability to provide for people. The loss of natural resources, such as forests, fresh water, fertile soils, and natural pollinators, and the resulting competition for these increasingly scarce resources, can lead to increased poverty and negative impacts on human health and wellbeing. Natural resources are also essential to sustainable economic development.

7:00pm              Return to camp, freshen up for dinner

8:00pm - 9:00pm      Dinner and briefing with ICCF Founder David Barron to discuss community-based wildlife management and how it is being implemented successfully in the Mara. Many of the programs in the itinerary are part of a community-based wildlife management system that balances the needs of neighboring communities and wildlife conservation.

Accommodations:      Mara Encounter, Naboisho Conservancy

Day 4, Thursday, April 21st:

6:30am - 10:30am      Breakfast briefing in the field with Mara Predator Hub staff on Mara Predator Conservation and the Big Cat Project

The Maasai Mara ecosystem contains globally significant populations of large predators, including lions, cheetahs, wild dogs, leopards, and others. The Mara Naboisho Big Cat Project brings together community, researchers, NGOs, and Tourism Partners in Naboisho Conservancy in an effort to help secure the future of the Big Cats (lion, cheetah, and leopard).

10:30am - 11:00am      Return to camp from briefing, freshen up for MMWCA briefing

11:00am - 12:00pm      Briefing at the camp with Daniel Sopia, CEO of the Maasai Mara Wildlife Conservancies Association (MMWCA) on the importance of community conservancies in the region

The Maasai Mara is Kenya's most important wildlife and tourism area. Roughly 25% of Kenya's wildlife resides within the greater Maasai Mara region, a 4,500 km<sup>2</sup> wildlife landscape comprised of the 1,510 km<sup>2</sup> Maasai Mara National Reserve (MMNR) and 3,000 km<sup>2</sup> of adjacent community and private lands. This area includes the key dry season range for the largest animal migration left on Earth.

The long-term conservation of this ecosystem depends on choices made by the Maasai and other landowners who control two-thirds of the greater Mara. Since the 1970s, when Maasai communal lands were subdivided into individual parcels, farming, settlements, and fencing have spread significantly, leading to the loss of more than half of all wildlife in the Mara between 1977 and 2001.

In the face of these challenges, local Maasai landowners and innovative tourism operators have joined together over the past decade to create conservancies on private lands across the Mara ecosystem. Conservancies are formed by pooling hundreds of individual properties into larger wildlife, tourism and livestock management entities, connecting otherwise increasingly fragmented landscapes. The conservancy landowners receive a monthly lease payment from tour operators using the area. Conservancies are managed by stakeholder conservancy boards, representing landowners and tourism partners.

There are now 15 conservancies in the greater Maasai Mara, covering 1,394 km<sup>2</sup> and increasing the region's total protected area coverage from 33% to 64%. The conservancies support the livelihoods of approximately 13,500 households, or an estimated 100,000 people. Lease fees paid to conservancy landowners totaled $7.5 million in 2017, demonstrating the potential for wildlife conservation to generate significant local economic returns. Conservancy governance structures bring transparency and increase participation in lease structures and benefit sharing. Benefits extend beyond the lease payments, with 1,600 people – mostly residents of the Mara – employed at nearly 50 conservancy-based tourism camps, while more than 250 conservancy-employed rangers help protect wildlife across the landscape.

Though still relatively new, conservancies are starting to show exciting conservation promise, providing critical habitat for a range of key species and leading to local wildlife recoveries in some areas. Recent research demonstrates, for example, that lion densities in the conservancies are actually higher than in the Maasai Mara National Reserve itself.

12:30pm - 2:00pm

Lunch briefing: Building Next Generation Impact Across the Maasai Mara's Community Conservancies: Koyiaki Guiding School

Principal Morris Nabaala will brief the group on the Koyiaki Guiding School's mission, which is to provide education to local Maasai youth in the tourism industry and responsible land use, thereby providing employment opportunities and promoting and encouraging conservation of the unique Maasai Mara ecosystem in general and the Koiyaki-Lemek conservation areas in particular.

2:00pm - 2:30pm Depart camp for field visit site

2:30pm - 5:00pm Field visit to conservation sites in the park with a briefing from ICCF staff on a number of the challenges facing the animals in the conservancy.

The world is dealing with an unprecedented spike in illegal wildlife trade, threatening to overturn decades of conservation and development gains. As both populations and economies have grown in East Asia, the demand for wildlife products has surged, sending the black-market price of ivory, rhino horn, and other products to historic highs. The recent rise in wildlife product prices has been met by the increased involvement of more organized, better funded, and better armed criminal and terrorist networks, and even militias, compounding the challenges faced by those charged with protecting the wildlife. Wildlife products can easily be converted into cash and used to purchase weapons and fund violent campaigns, and have become a substantial source of income for terrorist organizations in Africa.

Ivory and rhino horn are gaining popularity as a source of income for some of Africa's most notorious armed groups, including Somalia's al-Shabab, the Lord's Resistance Army (L.R.A.), and Darfur's janjaweed. Illegal wildlife products are a substantial lifeline to African-based terrorism. These groups, which are systematically exploiting porous borders and weak governance and hindering sustainable economic activities, have the potential to set back African development by decades and create large swaths of ungovernable land and new hotbeds for terrorist cells.

ICCF staff will discuss the state of the poaching crisis in Kenya and work being done to address this crisis legislatively and through on-the-ground programs.

5:30pm - 6:00pm Return to camp, freshen up for dinner

6:00pm - 8:00pm Dinner briefing with Allan Earnshaw, Kenya Wildlife Trust

Allan is a fourth generation Kenyan whose family came to Kenya in 1896. A Partner and Director of Ker Downey Safaris since 1980, he is also a member of several other environment and conservation boards in addition to KWT, including the Kenya Private Sector Alliance and the Kenya Tourism Federation. He is also a former Board member of the Kenya

Wildlife Service. Allan's key conservation goal is the creation of an independent national association of wildlife conservancies that will include community and private landowners, the appropriate government institutions, the private sector, and relevant NGOs.

Accommodations: Mara Encounter, Naboisho Conservancy

Day 5, Friday, April 22nd:

6:30am - 8:30am Early morning wildlife viewing led by head of the Mara Raptor Project, an expert in Martial Eagles and Vultures, both flagship bird species threatened by poisoning events. The Raptor team will join the group for breakfast in the field.

8:30am - 9:00am Depart from the breakfast field site to the Mara Beef Project

9:00am - 11:00am Briefing by representatives of the Enonkishu Conservancy and Mara Beef on the Mara Beef Project

The Mara Beef Company is partnering with the Enonkishu Conservancy, working with the Maasai community on improving livestock husbandry practices and genetics for the local pastoralists by introducing high-quality beef breeds to their herds. The goal is to strengthen rural communities and decrease the risk of catastrophic drought while improving soil health.

The Mara Beef Company, Enonkishu Conservancy, and Maasai Mara Wildlife Conservation Association are partnering to protect natural resource management in a wildlife-livestock integrated approach. The project has created a grazing plan for the Conservancy to allow grasslands to be grazed intensively for a short period then be left alone to recover for long periods, thereby improving the grasslands over the course of time. The integrated use of wildlife and livestock by communities in this area aims to spread the economic and financial risk, reduce vulnerability to stochastic events such as droughts, and increase food security through supplementary income generation. This approach holds enormous potential benefits for wildlife conservation and livelihood security.

In addition, the project is engaging with the community to conserve and restore biodiversity and implement a grazing management system aimed at restoring healthy soils that withstand drought and rebuild watersheds, provide habitat for wildlife, are the basis for healthy food production, absorb carbon from the atmosphere, and support livelihoods and rural traditions.

11:00am - 12:00pm Return to camp from Mara Beef Project

- 12:30pm - 2:30pm      Lunch briefing by camp staff on Biodiversity in the Maasai Mara
- Camp staff will brief the delegation on the ecological value of biodiversity and its importance for the livelihoods of local communities as it provides ecosystem services and bases for tourism and income generation. Camp rangers will also discuss the challenges and successes of biodiversity conservation efforts within the Reserve and neighboring Serengeti National Park and observe the physical manifestations of the detriments of biodiversity loss and the benefits of biodiversity strength.*
- 3:00pm - 3:45pm      Depart camp for afternoon site visit to the Headquarters of the Mara Elephant Project
- 4:00pm- 5:30pm      Briefing by Mara Elephant Project CEO, Marc Goss
- Naboisho's Mara Elephant Project (MEP) brings together researchers and conservationists in an effort to help secure the future of African elephants. The project's plan has two major components: tracking up to 15 elephants to better understand their movements, and engaging the community through anti-poaching education. The project CEO will brief the delegation on the program, as well as issues facing elephants throughout the region.*
- 5:30pm- 6:15pm      Depart Mara Elephant program to return to camp
- 6:30pm - 9:00pm      Dinner briefing on the Reserve and Ecotourism
- Park staff will brief the delegation on the magnitude and scope of the reserve and provide an introduction to key species, their value to the nation and local peoples, and the implications of their loss. David Barron will also discuss the significance of the ecotourism industry in Kenya specifically, but also in other parts of Africa and Latin America. Topics of discussion will include large-scale vs. small-scale tourism, trophy hunting, challenges to private reserves, and incentives for local communities to implement and improve conservation practices to support development. The delegation will see firsthand how ecotourism affects the Maasai Mara region.*
- Accommodations:      Mara Encounter, Naboisho Conservancy

Day 6, Saturday, April 23rd:

- 6:30am - 8:30am      Morning field visit to view predatory species during their most active hours

8:30am - 9:30am Breakfast briefing on the African Poaching Crisis and its implications for people and communities

Park staff and ICCF staff will continue to educate the guests about the African poaching crisis, which is threatening to overturn decades of conservation and development gains. Poaching in Africa is destabilizing economies, decimating iconic species, financing terrorist and violent organizations, contributing to the deterioration of governance in rangelands, and creating large swaths of land in which terrorist groups and militants can train and operate. Delegation will learn about recent legislative and policy successes in the country, as well as long-term strategies being developed, to ensure availability of natural resources to Kenyan communities and people now and for generations to come.

10:00am – 12:30pm Presentation by Dr. Crystal Courtney, Director of The Maa Trust

The Maa Trust is a non-profit organization based in community-owned conservancies in the Maasai Mara, Kenya. They work to increase the benefits of wildlife and conservation to Maasai families so that they appreciate, and contribute to, the protection of wild animals on their land, and they aim to unite communities by involving them in conservation at a management level. After the presentation, the delegation will see some of the programs at work including the women's beading program.

1:00pm – 2:00pm Lunch briefing by ICCF staff on the parliamentary caucus model and the achievements of Kenya's parliamentary conservation caucus

The Parliamentary Conservation Caucus – Kenya is a multiparty coalition of Members of Parliament with a commitment to elevating the role that stewardship of natural resources plays in Kenyan domestic policy and East Africa's regional development strategy. The members of this coalition recognize that a focus on resource security within Parliament is vital to ensuring Kenya's stability and prosperity, and to addressing its food, water, poaching, deforestation, and energy challenges. They also recognize that solving these challenges will require the public and private sectors to work together.

2:30pm - 5:30pm Field briefing on Balancing the Needs of People and Animals

Field guides and ICCF staff will educate the guests about complex issues of human-wildlife conflict, including tensions caused by competition for land and dangers posed by wildlife to humans and livestock. The guests will learn about innovative programs for addressing these challenges, as well as natural resource wealth management approaches that incentivize protection of wildlife and habitats. The delegation will learn about conflict flashpoints, as well as cost-effective solutions to mitigating these conflicts.

They will also learn about how this conflict impacts human communities and why this matters to the U.S.

6:00pm - 8:00pm      Dinner briefing on Sustainable Economic Development and Natural Resource Wealth Management

ICCF staff will brief the delegation about the role of conservation in promoting sustainable economic development, as well as ways in which conservation and development are mutually reinforcing. They will also educate participants about the economic & national security importance of good natural resource management to developing economies as well as the importance of access to resources & dependable supply chains to the U.S. and other global economies. Natural Resource Wealth Management™ and its effect on local and national economies in Africa, Latin America, and Asia will be discussed, as well as examples provided where conservation efforts were not implemented.

Accommodations:      Mara Encounter, Naboisho Conservancy

Day 7, Sunday, April 24th:

6:00am - 7:00am      Breakfast briefing with ICCF staff on Transboundary Conservation

ICCF staff will brief the delegation on management of migratory wildlife across international borders, including existing efforts and needed actions. Discussions will also focus on improved management of shared ecosystems. Wildlife that migrate through ecosystems spanning more than one country pose unique challenges. For example, poachers often cross into neighboring countries to conduct their illicit activities then escape back across the border, with the knowledge that rangers are prohibited from crossing national borders to track and arrest them. Guests will learn about a range of transboundary wildlife challenges and ways that governments can work together to address these challenges.

7:00am - 8:30am      Field briefing on Public-Private Conservation Partnerships

The Congo Basin Forest Partnership will be discussed, along with the efficacy of public-private partnerships involving other governments, multilateral financial institutions, development & conservation NGOs, and multinational & local corporations.

8:30am - 9:00am      Return to rooms to pack for departure

9:00am - 9:45am      Depart Mara Encounter Camp for Mara Airstrip

10:00am - 11:00am      Flight from Maasai Mara National Reserve to Wilson Airport in Nairobi

11:00am - 1:00pm	Transfer to Fairmont Hotel, Nairobi for day rooms to freshen up, and get ready for lunch with stakeholders
1:00pm - 3:00pm	Lunch with conservation stakeholders  Invited Guests: Charge d’Affaires, U.S. Embassy (confirmed), USAID (confirmed), Friends of Conservation, Abercrombie &amp; Kent Kenya Ltd., IFAW, Kenya Wildlife Trust, African Wildlife Foundation Kenya, Wildlife Conservancies Association, Kenya Tourism Federation, UN Environment, Kenya Wildlife Trust, UNODC, and UNEP
3:00pm - 4:00pm	Return to rooms to pack up and prepare for airport departure.
4:30pm - 5:30pm	Depart from hotel for Jomo Kenyatta International Airport (NBO)
10:25pm	Flight 1: Depart Nairobi Lufthansa LH 591 to Frankfurt Layover in Frankfurt
11:30pm	Flight 2: Depart Nairobi American Airlines AA6654 to London Layover in London

2:15pm	Flight 2: Arrive at Washington Dulles

4. Provide names and titles of ALL House Members and employees you are inviting. For each House invitee, provide an explanation of why the individual was invited:

Names and Titles

- Representative Buddy Carter
- Representative Ed Case
- Representative Garret Graves
- Representative John Garamendi
- Representative Guy Reschenthaler

Explanation of why the individual was invited:

Each individual was invited so they could witness firsthand the vital role of conservation and good natural resource management in alleviating poverty, promoting sustainable economic development, and strengthening national security for Kenya and other nations. This mission will also specifically demonstrate the challenges of combating the Wildlife Trafficking Crisis and methods for mitigation at the local, regional, national, and international level.

Congressmen Carter, Graves, and Garamendi are all members of the International Conservation Caucus (ICC). Congressmen Case and Graves are members of the House Natural Resource Committee whose jurisdiction is relevant to topics that will be covered on the trip. Congressman Reschenthaler is a member of the Appropriations State and Foreign Operations subcommittee whose jurisdiction includes a number of projects that will be visited on the trip.

12. For each sponsor required to submit a sponsor form, describe the sponsor's interest in the subject matter of the trip and its role in organizing and/or conducting the trip:

The International Conservation Caucus Foundation (ICCF) educates U.S. policymakers and other global political and business leaders on the vital links between good natural resource management, sustainable economic development, conflict avoidance, and regional security. ICCF organized the logistics of lodging and travel for the trip and identified topics and expert speakers.

15. b. 2. Provide reason for selecting the location of the event or trip

The purpose of bringing this mission to Kenya is to familiarize and educate the delegation about the critical role that conservation and sound natural resource management play in poverty alleviation, sustainable economic development, and regional security for Kenya and other developing countries of the world and subsequent impacts on the U.S. The U.S. is one of the leading funders of conservation projects in Africa through USAID, multilateral programs, and the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service, and it is important that Members of Congress and their senior staff understand how these funds are being used and what is being accomplished. It is also important that they understand the U.S.'s recent responses to illegal wildlife trafficking, as the U.S. is involved politically, legislatively, and financially in addressing this crisis. Masai Mara

National Reserve is a prime location to see a conservation model that is working and to witness firsthand the very animals and habitats that conservation models are aiming to protect.

18. Total Transportation Expenses for each participant

The total cost of transportation for each participant $4601.43 reflects the average cost of travel. Due to the differing cost of the international flights, the total transportation cost for attendees departing from San Francisco (SFO) is $4,688.97 and $3,349.89 for those departing from Dulles (IAD).

SFO Flight:

Congressman John Garamendi
Mrs. Patricia Garamendi

IAD Flight:

Congressman Buddy Carter
Mrs. Amy Carter
Congressman Garret Graves
Mrs. Carissa Graves
Congressman Ed Case
Mrs. Audrey Case
Congressman Guy Reschenthaler

The total cost of lodging for each participant $1009.50 reflects the average cost of lodging. Due to Congressman Reschenthaler not having an accompanying spouse, his lodging costs in Nairobi are $265 while the rest of the groups are $154.

March 15, 2022

The Honorable John Garamendi
and Mrs. Patricia Garamendi
United States House of Representatives
Washington, DC

Dear Congressman and Mrs. Garamendi,

We are pleased to invite you to join a U.S. Congressional Delegation to visit the Republic of Kenya from April 18 to April 25, 2022, inclusive of travel days.

The purpose of this mission is to educate the delegation about the critical role that conservation and sound natural resource management play in poverty alleviation, sustainable economic development, and regional security for Kenya and other developing countries of the world. The mission will focus on both terrestrial and marine conservation and the role of U.S. investment in the region.

We have extended an invitation to the following Members of Congress to join the delegation:

Congressman Garret Graves (R-LA)
Congressman Edward Case (D-HI)
Congressman Buddy Carter (R-GA)
Congressman Guy Reschenthaler (R-PA)

While in Kenya, the delegation will meet with government officials and leading local and U.S.-based conservation organizations.

Through this mission you will gain a firsthand look at innovative ways that U.S. investment in the region is providing invaluable support to the region's biodiversity conservation and management efforts while strengthening the ability of local people and organizations to manage and conserve species, habitats, and ecological processes, both marine and terrestrial.

The delegation will also learn about important issues relating to Kenya and East Africa, including collaboration with nongovernmental organizations, research centers, communities, and other stakeholders, to facilitate the protection of these land- and seascapes. No portion of the course or trip is financed by a lobbyist or a registered foreign agent.

Thank you for taking the time to learn more about this remarkable part of the world and the efforts that are underway to ensure its conservation for the benefit of local communities and the world at large for this and future generations.

Attached you will find general background information about the International Conservation Caucus Foundation and a brief working itinerary.

We look forward to having you join us.

Sincerely,

Carolyn Weis
Program Director

U.S. Congressional Delegation to the Republic of Kenya

April 18 -25, 2022

Day 1, Monday, April 18:

3:30pm Flight 1: Depart Washington Dulles Lufthansa LH417 to Frankfurt
Layover in Frankfurt

1:50pm Flight 2: Depart San Francisco UA 58 to Frankfurt
Layover in Frankfurt

Accommodation: Airplane

Day 2, Tuesday, April 19:

11:10am Depart Frankfurt LH 590 to Nairobi

8:20pm Flights Arrive in Nairobi (NBO). Retrieve luggage, clear customs, transport to hotel for check-in.

10:30pm Check into hotel and rest for the evening.

Accommodation: Fairmont Hotel, Nairobi

Day 3, Wednesday, April 20:

9:00am - 11:00am Country Briefing with US Embassy

*Briefing over breakfast at the hotel to introduce topics such as U.S.
partnerships in Kenya; Criminal Justice; Illegal Wildlife Trade; Biodiversity; and Economic and Political Overviews.*

11:30am Depart hotel for Wilson Airport in Nairobi for an afternoon flight to Mara Encounter in the Naboisho Conservancy, Ol Seki Airstrip - brown bag lunch to be distributed.

2:00pm Depart on flight to Ol Seki Airstrip

Located in Kenya adjacent to the Maasai Mara National Reserve, this private conservancy is a ground-breaking project of tourism benefiting conservation and community. With its high concentration of wildlife, and generous personal space and freedom on offer, visitors enjoy exceptional wildlife encounters.

- 3:00pm Arrival and transfer to Mara Encounter, Naboisho Conservancy
- Set in the Naboisho Conservancy, Mara Encounter offers spectacular opportunities to view wildlife in their natural habitat, from plains game to big cats.*
- 4:00pm Check in to Mara Encounter Camp
- 4:30pm - 5:00pm Welcome briefing over tea by Mara Encounter Camp staff
- Staff will provide an overview of the park, its habitats, and its biodiversity. ICCF staff will also go over the trip itinerary with participants and answer any questions.*
- 5:00pm - 7:00pm Evening briefing in the field with park staff on the importance of biodiversity & habitat protection to poverty alleviation and sustainable economic development
- As the world population grows to over 9 billion in the next 40 years, the demand for food, water, and energy will double, further testing nature's ability to provide for people. The loss of natural resources, such as forests, fresh water, fertile soils, and natural pollinators, and the resulting competition for these increasingly scarce resources, can lead to increased poverty and negative impacts on human health and wellbeing. Natural resources are also essential to sustainable economic development.*
- 7:00pm Return to camp, freshen up for dinner
- 8:00pm - 9:30pm Dinner and briefing with ICCF Founder David Barron to discuss community-based wildlife management and how it is being implemented successfully in the Mara. Many of the programs in the itinerary are part of a community-based wildlife management system that balances the needs of neighboring communities and wildlife conservation.

Accommodations: Mara Encounter, Naboisho Conservancy

Day 4, Thursday, April 21:

- 6:30am - 7:00am Depart camp for predator viewing.
- 7:00am - 8:30am The delegation will see first-hand lions in their natural habitat before hearing from the Mara Predator Hub scientists on research programs and conservation efforts.

- 8:30am - 10:00am Breakfast briefing in the field with Mara Predator Hub staff on the Mara Predator Conservation and the Big Cat Project.
- The Maasai Mara ecosystem contains globally significant populations of large predators, including lions, cheetahs, wild dogs, leopards, and others. The Mara Naboisho Big Cat Project brings together community, researchers, NGOs, and Tourism Partners in Naboisho Conservancy in an effort to help secure the future of the Big Cats (lion, cheetah, and leopard).*
- 10:00am - 11:00am Return to camp from briefing, freshen up for MMWCA briefing
- 11:00am - 12:30pm Briefing at the camp with Daniel Sopia, CEO of the Maasai Mara Wildlife Conservancies Association (MMWCA) on the importance of community conservancies in the region
- The Maasai Mara is Kenya's most important wildlife and tourism area. Roughly 25% of Kenya's wildlife resides within the greater Maasai Mara region, a 4,500 km<sup>2</sup> wildlife landscape comprised of the 1,510 km<sup>2</sup> Maasai Mara National Reserve (MMNR) and 3,000 km<sup>2</sup> of adjacent community and private lands. This area includes the key dry season range for the largest animal migration left on Earth.*
- The long-term conservation of this ecosystem depends on choices made by the Maasai and other landowners who control two-thirds of the greater Mara. Since the 1970s, when Maasai communal lands were subdivided into individual parcels, farming, settlements, and fencing have spread significantly, leading to the loss of more than half of all wildlife in the Mara between 1977 and 2001.*
- In the face of these challenges, local Maasai landowners and innovative tourism operators have joined together over the past decade to create conservancies on private lands across the Mara ecosystem. Conservancies are formed by pooling hundreds of individual properties into larger wildlife, tourism and livestock management entities, connecting otherwise increasingly fragmented landscapes. The conservancy landowners receive a monthly lease payment from tour operators using the area. Conservancies are managed by stakeholder conservancy boards, representing landowners and tourism partners.*
- There are now 15 conservancies in the greater Maasai Mara, covering 1,394 km<sup>2</sup> and increasing the region's total protected area coverage from 33% to 64%. The conservancies support the livelihoods of approximately 13,500 households, or an estimated 100,000 people. Lease fees paid to conservancy landowners totaled $7.5 million in 2017, demonstrating the potential for wildlife conservation to generate significant local economic returns. Conservancy governance structures bring transparency and* increase participation in lease structures and benefit sharing. Benefits extend beyond the lease payments, with 1,600 people – mostly residents of the Mara – employed at nearly 50 conservancy-based tourism camps, while more than 250 conservancy-employed rangers help protect wildlife across the landscape.

Though still relatively new, conservancies are starting to show exciting conservation promise, providing critical habitat for a range of key species and leading to local wildlife recoveries in some areas. Recent research demonstrates, for example, that lion densities in the conservancies are actually higher than in the Maasai Mara National Reserve itself.

product prices has been met by the increased involvement of more organized, better funded, and better armed criminal and terrorist networks, and even militias, compounding the challenges faced by those charged with protecting the wildlife. Wildlife products can easily be converted into cash and used to purchase weapons and fund violent campaigns, and have become a substantial source of income for terrorist organizations in Africa.

Ivory and rhino horn are gaining popularity as a source of income for some of Africa's most notorious armed groups, including Somalia's al-Shabab, the Lord's Resistance Army (L.R.A.), and Darfur's janjaweed. Illegal wildlife products are a substantial lifeline to African-based terrorism. These groups, which are systematically exploiting porous borders and weak governance and hindering sustainable economic activities, have the potential to set back African development by decades and create large swaths of ungovernable land and new hotbeds for terrorist cells.

12:00pm - 12:30pm Return to camp

12:30pm - 2:30pm Lunch briefing with Dickson Kaelo, CEO of Kenya Wildlife Conservancies Association

As the sole national conservancies association in the country, Kenya Wildlife Conservancies Association (KWCA) brings together conservancies across Kenya to enhance sharing of best practices, harmonize standards and more so ensure that the voice of this vital group that is at the heart of sustainable wildlife conservancy in the country is firm, united and audible, not just at the grassroots but at the county and national levels.

USAID, in partnership with the Kenya Wildlife Service (KWS), pioneered the community conservancy model – a widely recognized approach to conservation that protects wildlife outside protected areas, expands economic opportunities for communities, and enhances the ability of people and landscapes to withstand drought and other climatic shocks through resilience efforts. Programs are supported through regional conservancy umbrella organizations such as the Northern Rangelands Trust (NRT), the Maasai Mara Wildlife Conservancies Association (MMWCA), and the Amboseli Ecosystem Trust. At the national level, the associations are anchored in the Kenya Wildlife Conservancies Association (KWCA) which provides a powerful voice on common issues affecting conservancies. A USAID-funded policy and legislative reform program through the Nature Conservancy and the KWCA protects the interests of all the 150 conservancies in Kenya.

2:30pm - 4:30pm Afternoon Break. No activities are planned at this time and members of the delegation will have an opportunity to rest before evening activities.

5:00pm- 7:00pm Field visit to conservation sites in the park with a briefing on elephant conservation.

Accommodations: Mara Encounter, Naboisho Conservancy

Day 6, Saturday, April 23:

6:30am - 9:00am      Field briefing by Camp staff on Biodiversity in the Maasai Mara

Staff will brief the delegation on the ecological value of biodiversity and its importance for the livelihoods of local communities as it provides ecosystem services and bases for tourism and income generation. Camp rangers will also discuss the challenges and successes of biodiversity conservation efforts within the Reserve and neighboring Serengeti National Park and observe the physical manifestations of the detriments of biodiversity loss and the benefits of biodiversity strength.

9:00 am - 11:00am      Breakfast briefing in the field with ICCF staff on Transboundary Conservation
