The Honorable Kelly Armstrong
U.S. House of Representatives
2235 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Colleague:

Pursuant to House Rule 25, clause 5(d)(2), the Committee on Ethics hereby approves your and your spouse's proposed trip to Norway,¹ scheduled for August 26 to September 1, 2023, sponsored by Aspen Institute, Inc., Breakthrough Energy Foundation, and Climate Imperative.

You must complete a Member/Officer Post-Travel Disclosure Form and file it, together with a Sponsor Post-Travel Disclosure Form completed by the trip sponsor, with the Clerk of the House within 15 days after your return from travel. As part of that filing, you are also required to attach a copy of this letter and both the Traveler and Primary Trip Sponsor Forms (including attachments) you previously submitted to the Committee in seeking pre-approval for this trip. You must also report all travel expenses totaling more than $480 from a single source on the "Travel" schedule of your annual Financial Disclosure Statement covering this calendar year. Finally, Travel Regulation § 404(d) also requires you to keep a copy of all request forms and supporting information provided to the Committee for three subsequent Congresses from the date of travel.

Because the trip may involve meetings with foreign government representatives, we note that House Members may accept, under the Foreign Gifts and Decorations Act (FGDA), gifts "of minimal value [currently $480] tendered as a souvenir or mark of courtesy" by a foreign government. Any tangible gifts valued in excess of minimal value received from a foreign government must, within 60 days of acceptance, be disclosed on a Form for Disclosing Gifts from Foreign Governments and either turned over to the Clerk of the House, or, with the written approval of the Committee, retained for official use.

¹ Please be aware that the Committee's review of the proposed trip does not extend to either the security situation in the destination country or security related to foreign travel in general. We recommend you contact the Office of House Security (OHS) for a safety and security briefing prior to your departure. OHS may be reached at (202) 226-2044 or ohsstaff@mail.house.gov. House travelers should also register for the U.S. State Department's Smart Traveler Enrollment Program at <https://step.state.gov>.

If you have any further questions, please contact the Committee's Office of Advice and Education at extension 5-7103.

8 – 9 AM: Breakfast Conversation with Julio Friedmann, Chief Scientist and Chief Carbon Wrangler, Carbon Direct

Dr. Julio Friedmann is an internationally recognized expert on carbon management. His work concerns how to reduce and remove carbon dioxide from the air and oceans through investment, science, and business. Dr. Friedmann will outline the topic of carbon management for the conference participants, contextualize the planned site visits, facilitate dialogues about the role of carbon management in climate change policy, and address associated policy questions.

9 – 9:15 AM: Introduction and Framework of the Conference

This conference is organized into roundtable conversations, working lunches, site visits, and pre-dinner remarks. This segment will highlight how the conference will be conducted, how those with questions will be recognized, and how responses will be timed to allow for as much engagement as possible.

Speaker:

Charlie Dent, Vice President, Aspen Institute; Executive Director, Congressional Program

9:15 – 11 AM: Roundtable Discussion

Building Cleaner and Faster: Making the Permitting System Work for 21st Century Energy Needs

Achieving net-zero emissions by 2050 is ecologically essential, technologically feasible, economically achievable, but procedurally impossible. How can Congress reimagine the permitting system to reinforce security and environmental imperatives?

Speakers:

Jim Connaughton, CEO, Nautilus Data Technologies; Former Chair of the White House Council on Environmental Quality

Katie McGinty, Vice President & Chief Sustainability, Government & Regulatory Affairs Officer, Johnson Controls; Former Chair of the White House Council on Environmental Quality

11 – 11:15 AM: Break

11:15 AM – 1:15 PM: Roundtable Discussion:

A Critical Minerals Policy for the United States

Critical minerals like cobalt, lithium, nickel, and copper (among others) have emerged as key enabling resources for the clean energy transition, but the difficulty of securely accessing these raw materials will be a barrier in the decades to come. These minerals are essential building blocks of wind turbines, electric car batteries, and other clean energy infrastructure, and therefore a steady supply to the West is crucial to meet climate goals. Sustainably and ethically sourcing the minerals necessary to fight climate change raises a host of challenges related to geopolitical competition, domestic mining and processing, and technological innovation. This session will explore these roadblocks and highlight what actions Congress could take to secure the critical minerals supply necessary for the U.S. new energy economy to thrive.

Speakers:

Frank Fannon, Managing Director, Fannon Global Advisors; former Assistant Secretary of State for Energy Resources

Jonathan Pershing, Program Director, Environment, Hewlett Foundation; Former U.S. State Department Special Envoy for Climate; former Special Envoy for Climate Change, U.S. Department of State

1:15 – 2:15 PM: Working Lunch

During lunch, Members will discuss how permitting challenges and minerals scarcity might be examples of “bottlenecks” preventing progress on advancing the dual imperatives of energy security and addressing climate change. Using these examples as a starting point, members will consider the role that the policy process plays in addressing bottlenecks, and how technological and economic factors could be brought to bear alongside the policy process.

2:45 – 4 PM: Visit to the Storting, the Norwegian Parliament

Founded in 1814, Storting is the supreme, unicameral legislature of Norway that: (1) passes new legislation, and amends and repeals existing legislation; (2) determines annual state revenues and expenditures by considering and adopting the Fiscal Budget; (3) supervises the Government and public administration; (4) authorizes plans and guidelines for the activities of the State and debates broader domestic and foreign policy issues. During the visit to the Storting, Members of Congress will have the opportunity to explore the historic building and learn more about their Norwegian counterparts’ work.

4:20 PM: Group boards buses and is transported to the residence of the U.S. Ambassador to Norway to clear security protocols to enter residence

4:40 PM: Bus arrives at the residence and group, all with passports in hand, clear through security in 20 minutes

5 – 6:30 PM: Meeting and Standing Light Dinner with the U.S. Ambassador to Norway, Marc Nathanson and Jane Nathanson

The discussion will focus on issues of interest to members of Congress.

6:30 – 7 PM: Group boards buses and returns to hotel

TUESDAY, AUGUST 29:

7-8:20 AM: Breakfast

8:30 - 9:45 AM: Roundtable Discussion:

Norwegian Energy Leadership: How Norway's Success Informs America's Energy Transition

Norway is successfully transitioning into green energy, while continuing to generate traditional energy sources. The country is also far advanced in managing carbon. The Ministers of Petroleum & Energy and Trade & Industry will share their experiences.

Speakers:

Bjelland Eriksen, State Secretary Andreas, the Ministry of Petroleum and Energy of Norway

Jan Christian Vestre, Minister of Trade and Industry of Norway

9:45 – 9:55 AM: Break

9:55 – 11 AM: Roundtable Discussion

Geopolitics of Energy: Reinforcing Allies' Energy Independence

In many NATO member countries, the Russian invasion of Ukraine and the subsequent chaos in world energy markets thrust into the forefront of public consciousness the risks posed by energy supply chains that are vulnerable to disruptions in geopolitical equilibrium. This session will address in what ways the United States might be positioned to reinforce allies' energy security and deprive adversaries of opportunities to use energy flows as an instrumentality of pressure.

Speaker:

Jason Bordoff, Founding Director, Center on Global Energy Policy; Professor of Professional Practice, Columbia SIPA; Co-Founding Dean, Columbia Climate School

11 – 11:45: Working Lunch

Discussion continues between members of Congress and scholars, focusing on the transatlantic energy relationship between the United States and its allies, including Norway. Members will consider how recent global events have changed some of the fundamental assumptions that have underpinned the energy system, and the ways in which newly reinvigorated transatlantic ties present policy opportunities for addressing the dual imperatives of energy security and addressing climate change.

11:45 AM – Noon: Group boards buses and departs at noon for Brevik, Norway

Noon – 2:15 PM: Travel to Heidelberg Materials Sement Norge – Brevik Carbon Capture and Storage (CCS)

2:30 – 3:30 PM: Educational Site Visit

Heidelberg Materials Sement Norge – Brevik Carbon Capture and Storage

Cement production is a major contributor to global greenhouse gas emissions, both from the release of carbon dioxide contained in limestone (one of the key ingredients of cement) and the energy needed to heat the limestone during the cement manufacturing process. We will visit an innovative cement manufacturing facility, the first industrial-scale carbon capture and storage (CCS) project at a cement production facility. The Northern Lights facility, which we will visit later in the week, is the ultimate destination for this captured carbon.

3:45 – 5:45 PM: Group returns to Oslo

6 – 7 PM: Electric Ferry – New Energy Efficient Mode of Water Transport

Critical to success in the energy transition will be the electrification of the transportation sector, including short-haul maritime vessels like ferries. The world's first electric ferry was put into operation in Norway in 2015 with the manufacturer projecting emissions to be cut by 95 percent and costs by 80 percent compared to a fuel-powered ferry. Today, Norway has about 80 electric commuter ferries in operation and built and operates the first high-speed ferry, a multi-stop commuter route, which reduces emissions in the region the equivalent of taking 60 buses off the road. Participants will ride an electric ferry to dinner with commentary by a local expert.

7 – 9 PM: Working Dinner

Seating is arranged to expose participants to a diverse range of views and provide the opportunity for a meaningful exchange of ideas. Scholars and lawmakers are rotated daily. Members today have seen examples of electrification and carbon management, which are two of many essential tools that will be necessary for the new energy economy of the future. What other ways do conference attendees view as essential for the new energy economy? How might new approaches enhance energy security in the process?

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 30: (Overnight in Bergen)

7 – 8:30: Breakfast Available

8:30 – 10:15 AM: Roundtable Discussion

U.S. Leadership in Clean Energy Innovation

The United States has emerged as a leader in clean energy innovation, pioneering cutting edge technologies that will help define the energy system of the future. Adding to the momentum is recently enacted, robustly bipartisan legislation which has made unprecedented investments in clean energy demonstration and development, world class universities that train the next generation of scientists and engineers, and the United States National Laboratories which have embraced a clean energy innovation agenda. This session will seek to address what it will take for the United States to maintain and expand on its status as a world leader in clean energy innovation.

Speakers:

Robin Millican, Senior Director, Breakthrough Energy

Rich Powell, CEO, ClearPath

10:15 – 10:45 AM: Break and check out of hotel

10:45 – 11:45 AM: Working Lunch

Discussion continues between members of Congress and scholars on clean energy innovation. Members will discuss how the United States can (continue to) lead global energy innovation, positioning the United States as a key engine of new opportunities in the energy transition and the energy economy of the future. In what ways can energy innovation enhance the national security of the United States?

THURSDAY, AUGUST 31: (Overnight in Bergen)

6:30 – 8:34 AM: Breakfast Available

9 – 10:30 AM: Roundtable Discussion

A New Era of Global Competition: Trade, Climate Cooperation, and National Security

The United States' trade agenda is undergoing a period of historic upheaval. Globalization seems to now be disfavored relative to new "America First" strategies (exemplified in particular by the array of recently passed historic subsidies for domestic clean energy investment). Abroad, some believe the relevance of the World Trade Organization continues to decline, and European allies have announced a "border carbon adjustment mechanism." All the while, multilateral, bilateral, and regional trading regimes are emerging as the new trade world order. In what ways is the United States well positioned to leverage trade opportunities to reinforce energy security and climate change imperatives? How might policymakers balance conflicting energy imperatives that favor global competition, but also simultaneously necessitate cooperation?

Speakers:

Sonia Aggarwal, CEO, Energy Innovation; former Special Assistant to President Biden for Climate Policy, Innovation, and Deployment

Maureen Hinman, Co-Founder and Chairman of Silverado Policy Accelerator

10:30 – 10:45 AM: Break

10:45 AM – 1 PM: Policy Reflections for Members of Congress

All attendees can remain in the meeting room, however, this session is only for Members of Congress to discuss ideas and policies.

This time is set aside for members of Congress to reflect on what they have learned during the conference and discuss their views on implications for U.S. policy. Members of Congress have seen and learned a lot this week. Drawing on the full range of conversations and site visits throughout the week, members will seek to identify for each other the most promising takeaways for the United States policy process, with a special focus on opportunities for bipartisan cooperation and agreement enhancing United States energy security while addressing climate change. This is a members-only conversation.

1-2 PM: Working Lunch

2-2:30 PM: Group boards buses and travels to Northern Lights company

3- 4:45 PM: Educational Site Visit

Northern Lights (an open-source carbon management facility)

We will visit the world's first open-source carbon dioxide transport and storage infrastructure, which delivers carbon storage as a service. The goal of this service is to help emitters stop emissions that cannot be avoided in other ways from reaching the atmosphere and to provide a safe and permanent storage option for CO₂ that is removed from the air. Carbon dioxide is received in liquid form transported by ship, offloaded into a terminal (which we will tour), and then eventually injected through undersea pipelines into permanent geologic undersea storage.

5 – 6 PM: Group boards buses and returns to hotel

7:30 – 9 PM: Working Dinner

Seating is arranged to expose participants to a diverse range of views and provide the opportunity for a meaningful exchange of ideas. Scholars and lawmakers are rotated daily. Discussions will focus on the specific role that carbon management might play in addressing climate change. Carbon management is thought by some to distract from other important climate change agendas, while others maintain that carbon management is a necessary and indispensable tool when deployed alongside a full-spectrum approach to addressing climate change. How might member views on carbon management influence the federal policy process?

The Honorable Kelly Armstrong

U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, DC 20515-0306

Dear Representative Armstrong,

I would like to invite you and Kjersti to participate in a bipartisan, bicameral congressional conference on Energy Security & the New Energy Economy: Overcoming Challenges and Bottlenecks in Oslo, Norway, August 26-September 1, 2023. Participants would depart the U.S. on Saturday, August 26 and return to the U.S. Friday, September 1. We have limited space, so this invite does not guarantee a seat at the conference table. If you would like to participate, please get back to us by Monday, May 15.

2022 thrust energy security to the fore of public consciousness, shining a spotlight on the vulnerability of our allies and raising important questions about how to balance a difficult set of competing demands to ensure uninterrupted and affordable energy for all. Meanwhile, Congress made historic appropriations aimed at ushering forward a new energy future for the United States and reinforcing American clean energy competitiveness while decreasing our energy reliance on foreign powers. In Oslo later this summer, we will confront these issues and explore the various interplays, tradeoffs, and opportunities that they implicate. A detailed agenda is forthcoming.

Attendance is by invitation only, no outside observers, no lobbyists, no congressional staff, and no media. All conference sessions are off-the-record. No foreign governments or special interest funds are accepted to fund the Aspen Institute Congressional Program. As required by the House and Senate ethics rules, we will provide congressional participants with ethics private sponsor forms completed and signed.

Travel expenses, including airfare, meals and lodging will be paid for by the Aspen Institute; no expenses for entertainment or recreation are paid for in compliance with ethics rules.

The Congressional Program is part of the Aspen Institute, Inc. a nonprofit organization founded in 1950. The Congressional Program is celebrating its 40th year this year and was created to promote leadership on public policy by bringing together legislators from both political parties with internationally renowned scholars for high level discussions and analysis. Since our program's inception, more than 497 members of Congress have participated in the 154 domestic and international conferences.

We hope you can join us for this important conference.

Sincerely,

Charlie Dent
