Meet the Panelists

The Honorable Sanford Bishop (GA-02)

U.S. House of Representatives

Congressman Sanford D. Bishop, Jr. is the Ranking Member of the Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Subcommittee. In addition, he serves on the Financial Services and General Government Subcommittee and on the Military Construction, Veterans Affairs, and Related Agencies Subcommittee. He has represented the Second Congressional District of Georgia in the U.S. House of Representatives since 1993.

Dr. Homer Wilkes

Former Under Secretary for Natural Resources and Environment

Dr Homer Lee Wilkes is an American conservationist and former government official from Mississippi. He served as the first African American USDA Under Secretary for Natural Resources and Environment. Dr. Wilkes worked with USDA for more than 41 years heavily contributing to engineering, natural resource and watershed projects, as well as forestry and working lands.

Dr. Trina George

Former Mississippi State Director for USDA Rural Development

A celebrated expert in her field, Dr. Trina George exhibits a rare blend of idealism and pragmatism in her approach to her role as the USDA Rural Development (RD) State Director for Mississippi. Her work began more than 30 years ago as the Special Projects and Community Outreach and Development Coordinator in the Office of Congressman Bennie G. Thompson. She went on to serve as the USDA RD State Director in the Biden Administration, following her eight years of service in the role under the Obama Administration. She has devoted her career to serving as an advocate for rural Mississippians and a force for change in her home state.

Meet the Panelists

Agricultural Roundtable & Resource Workshop

Robert Bonnie

Former Under Secretary for Agriculture for Farm Production and Conservation

During the Biden and Obama Administrations, Robert was Under Secretary for Natural Resources and Environment at USDA. Prior to joining USDA, Robert was vice president for land conservation at Environmental Defense Fund where he focused on developing incentives to reward stewardship on private lands. Robert lives with his wife, Julie, and daughter, Lilly, in Loudoun County, Virginia.

Basil Gooden

Former Under Secretary of Agriculture for Rural Development

Basil Ivanhoe Gooden is an American governmental executive whose career has advanced equitable food systems, agriculture policy, public health, and community economic development in rural America. Gooden served as the 3rd Virginia Secretary of Agriculture and Forestry for the Commonwealth of Virginia. He became the first Black American to serve in this position and during his tenure from September 2016 until January 2018, he was the only Black American Secretary of Agriculture in any state in the United States. In his capacity as Secretary, he provided strategic vision and leadership to two of Virginia's largest private industries, Agriculture and Forestry, with an annual economic impact of $91 billion in Virginia.

Thaddeus Fairley

Former Mississippi State Director for USDA Farm Service Agency

Thaddeus Fairley, Sr. was appointed by the Biden Administration to serve as the State Executive Director of the USDA Farm Service Agency (FSA) in Mississippi in November 2021. Fairley is a certified nonprofit professional and native of Sunflower, Mississippi. Previously, he served as a Field Representative for Congressman Bennie G. Thompson. During his time with the Congressman, Fairley served as an expert on broadband initiatives and constituent services, including working on resolving issues for farmers. Prior to joining the Congressman's office, Fairley worked in the banking industry for over seven years.

Almost 7 months into the Trump Administration and nearly 50 percent of Project 2025 has been implemented. The changes have been swift and have required a response from the public sector at the local and state level as well as the private sector.

How must these sectors work together to respond to disaster, mitigate harm, and prevent crisis?

His work helps shape federal policies that support communities before, during, and after devastating emergencies.

2024 was a year of rapid shifts, unexpected challenges, and hard-earned insights. In this dynamic panel, Congressional Black Caucus (CBC) Members reflect on the key lessons learned from the past year—from legislative battles to community resilience—and how those experiences are shaping new strategies moving forward.

Panelists will explore how they navigated moments of uncertainty, adapted to changing political and social landscapes, and embraced the art of the pivot to continue driving progress. Attendees will gain a deeper understanding of how leadership evolves in real time—and what it takes to stay effective, grounded, and future-focused in times of flux.

Lessons from 2024 & the Art of the Pivot

The Honorable Cleo Fields (LA-06)

U.S. House of Representatives

Congressman Cleo Fields represents Louisiana's 6th Congressional District and brings over 30 years of public service. Elected to the State Senate at 24 and later the youngest member of the 103rd Congress, he has long championed education, economic development, and community leadership. He authored the Delta Initiatives Act and founded what is now the Louisiana Leadership Institute. After a historic 1995 run for governor, he returned to state leadership, chairing key Senate committees and the Louisiana Legislative Black Caucus. Now back in Congress, Fields remains focused on advancing Louisiana's priorities. He lives in Baton Rouge with his wife, Debra, and their two sons.

The Honorable Al Green (TX-09)

U.S. House of Representatives

Congressman Al Green is serving his eleventh term representing Texas' 9th District. A lifelong civil rights advocate, he serves on the House Financial Services Committee and is Ranking Member of the Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations. Before Congress, he practiced law, served 26 years as a Harris County Justice of the Peace, and led the Houston NAACP for a decade. A graduate of the Thurgood Marshall School of Law, Green has been widely recognized for his public service, including honors from the NAACP, AFL-CIO, and the City of Houston.

The Honorable Emanuel Cleaver, II (MO-05)

U.S. House of Representatives

Congressman Emanuel Cleaver, II is serving his eleventh term representing Missouri's Fifth District. A senior member of the House Financial Services Committee, he serves as Ranking Member of the Subcommittee on Housing and Insurance. Formerly Kansas City's first Black mayor, Cleaver led major redevelopment efforts and has remained focused on housing and economic development in Congress. He co-authored the bipartisan Housing Opportunity Through Modernization Act, helped pass Dodd-Frank, and led COVID-era housing relief efforts.

Carroll Rhodes, Esq.

General Counsel, Mississippi State Conference, NAACP

Carroll Rhodes, Esq. currently serves as General Counsel for the Mississippi State Conference of the NAACP, where he has long been a powerful legal advocate for civil rights and social justice across the state. With decades of experience practicing law and defending constitutional protections, Mr. Rhodes is known for his steadfast commitment to protecting voting rights, advancing educational equity, and challenging systemic discrimination. His work has helped shape legal strategies that empower communities and hold institutions accountable.

Derrick Johnson

President, NAACP

Derrick Johnson is the President and CEO of the NAACP, the nation's oldest and most influential civil rights organization. A fearless leader and strategic visionary, Mr. Johnson has guided the organization through a new era of activism, focused on racial equity, civic engagement, and justice in the face of ongoing systemic challenges. A Mississippi native and longtime community advocate, he brings a grounded understanding of grassroots organizing and public policy to his national leadership. Under his direction, the NAACP continues to be a driving force in shaping a more just and inclusive America.

Moderator: Vincent Evans

Executive Director, Congressional Black Caucus

Vincent Evans is the Executive Director of the Congressional Black Caucus, a role he calls “one of the greatest jobs in America.” Previously, he served as deputy director of public engagement in Vice President Kamala Harris’s office and was Southern political director for President Biden’s 2020 campaign. A Florida A&M graduate and longtime public servant, Evans brings deep political experience and a passion for strategic collaboration to his leadership of the CBC.

Panel Overview

As cities work to adopt clean infrastructure solutions, waste is no longer the end of the line—it's the beginning of a new resource cycle. This panel explores how public-private partnerships are converting waste into clean energy and advancing the shift to circular economies.

We'll examine how strategic collaboration between industry and government is building cleaner, more resilient cities—and how communities are redefining the value of waste to ensure equitable environmental progress.

A child of Eritrean immigrants, Neguse is driven by a deep belief in expanding opportunity for all Americans and lives in Lafayette, Colorado, with his wife Andrea and their two children.

Opening Remarks by Attorney Scott Colom

Biden Nominee, U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Mississippi

On October 14, 2022, President Joe Biden nominated Scott Colom to serve as a United States District Judge for the Northern District of Mississippi to the seat vacated by Judge Michael Mills. A native of Mississippi, Mr. Colom has dedicated his life to justice in his home state with roles at the Mississippi Center for Justice, as a justice court judge in Lowndes County and the City of Aberdeen, as a private plaintiff-side attorney, and as the District Attorney of Mississippi's 16th District. He is serving as both the first Black justice court judge of Lowndes County and the first Black city prosecutor of his hometown of Columbus.

HBCUs have been under assault—never receiving their fair (or even an adequate) share, but always going above and beyond to create opportunities for students with limited resources. In this era, our communities will have to return to what we know. So what role must alums, school administrators, corporate and nonprofit partners, and community members play to ensure their protection and survival?

Dear Colleague:

Pursuant to House Rule 25, clause 5(d)(2), the Committee on Ethics hereby approves your and your spouse's proposed trip to Tunica, Mississippi, scheduled for August 7 to 10, 2025, sponsored by Congressional Black Caucus Institute.

You must complete a Member/Officer Post-Travel Disclosure Form and file it, together with a Sponsor Post-Travel Disclosure Form completed by the trip sponsor, with the Clerk of the House within 15 days after your return from travel. As part of that filing, you are also required to attach a copy of this letter and both the Traveler and Primary Trip Sponsor Forms (including attachments) you previously submitted to the Committee in seeking pre-approval for this trip. You must also report all travel expenses totaling more than $480 from a single source on the "Travel" schedule of your annual Financial Disclosure Statement covering this calendar year. Finally, Travel Regulation § 404(d) also requires you to keep a copy of all request forms and supporting information provided to the Committee for three subsequent Congresses from the date of travel.

If you have any further questions, please contact the Committee's Office of Advice and Education at extension 5-7103.

Sincerely,

Michael Guest
