Dear Colleague:

Pursuant to House Rule 25, clause 5(d)(2), the Committee on Ethics hereby approves your proposed trip to Houston, Texas, scheduled for March 22 to 24, 2026, sponsored by the Climate Solutions Foundation.

You must complete a Member/Officer Post-Travel Disclosure Form and file it, together with a Sponsor Post-Travel Disclosure Form completed by the trip sponsor, with the Clerk of the House within 15 days after your return from travel. As part of that filing, you are also required to attach a copy of this letter and both the Traveler and Primary Trip Sponsor Forms (including attachments) you previously submitted to the Committee in seeking pre-approval for this trip. You must also report all travel expenses totaling more than $525 from a single source on the "Travel" schedule of your annual Financial Disclosure Statement covering this calendar year. Finally, Travel Regulation § 404(d) also requires you to keep a copy of all request forms and supporting information provided to the Committee for three subsequent Congresses from the date of travel.

If you have any further questions, please contact the Committee's Office of Advice and Education at extension 5-7103.

Sincerely,

Michael Guest

Question # 4

CERAWeek convenes global leaders to develop new ideas, insights, and solutions to the most pressing challenges shaping the future of energy, the environment, and climate. Widely regarded as the premier annual gathering of CEOs and government ministers, CERAWeek brings together senior leaders from the global energy and utilities sectors, as well as automotive, manufacturing, policy, finance, and an expanding technology community.

We invited these Members of Congress to participate in a focused discussion on pragmatic opportunities for collaboration and how emerging technologies and evolving energy priorities will shape our future. Their leadership on these issues enables meaningful engagement with representatives from major corporations, trade associations, and NGOs attending CERAWeek. Members will also have the opportunity to explore how legislative initiatives — including permitting reform — directly influence the pace and success of the energy transition with the decision-makers driving these changes.

11:15 AM – 12:15 PM CT Meeting with Chairman of Avangrid
Location not yet released

Members will gain perspective from a major utility-scale developer and grid operator on what it takes to deliver large-scale energy projects on time and at cost in an increasingly dynamic and demanding energy environment. Topics may include project certainty and policy durability, the role of utilities in long-term infrastructure planning, affordability pressures facing ratepayers, and permitting challenges that affect transmission and generation deployment. The discussion will provide experiential insight into how federal policy, regulatory stability, and permitting reform influence capital allocation decisions and system buildout. Members will be able to connect these issues to ongoing legislative debates around infrastructure timelines, energy affordability, grid reliability, and ensuring that energy investments translate into economic benefits for their districts and the nation.

12:30 PM – 12:50 PM CT Lunch with Chevron Executives
Location not yet released

The CSF delegation will have a lunch discussion on points made during the opening of plenaries with Chevron executives. This discussion gives Members direct insight into how a leading global energy producer is making long-term Investment decisions across different energy sources including oil, natural gas, LNG, hydrogen, carbon capture, and other emerging technologies. As one of the largest U.S.-based energy companies, Chevron's business strategy is closely tied to federal policy, environmental regulations, export priorities and approvals, and tax environments shaping domestic production and global competitiveness.

12:50 PM – 2:05 PM CT Members Attend CERAWeek Luncheon and Dialogue
Speakers: Dan Yergin (S&P Global), James Farley (CEO, Ford Motor Company)

Dan Yergin will discuss with James Farley , CEO of Ford Motor Company about how the automotive industry is transforming with the shift to electric vehicles. The conversation will focus on EV growth, energy demand, charging infrastructure, and supply chains for batteries. They would also explore how automakers and energy companies are adapting to the global energy transition.

2:05 PM – 2:15 PM CT Travel to Agora Area
10-minute walk

2:15 PM – 3:15 PM CT Guided Agora Tour with Agora Ambassador Representative from S&P Global

Members will see firsthand the technologies, startups, and capital platforms shaping next-generation energy systems. Exposure to innovation trends will inform discussions around federal investment in research and development, demonstration projects, tax credits, and how to accelerate technological commercialization. It will also illustrate the range of partners involved in developing, financing, and deploying technologies that will enable energy systems to expand while remaining reliable.

3:15 PM – 3:30 PM CT Walk to CERAWeek AGORA Innovation Pod

3:30 PM – 4:00 PM CT Members Participate in CERAWeek AGORA Innovation Pod Discussion

Members will examine the intersection of energy affordability and federal permitting reform, focusing on how policy decisions are shaping project timelines, investment, and consumer costs. Speakers will explore the current legislative landscape, political dynamics and the practical implications for energy development. The conversation will highlight opportunities to accelerate infrastructure while maintaining reliability and cost stability.

4:05 PM – 4:20 PM CT Walk to CERAWeek Plenary

4:30 PM – 5:10 PM CT CERAWeek Plenary: Capital, Policy, and Power in a New Global Order
speakers include: Peter Orszag, CEO & Chairman, Lazard, Daniel Yergin ,Vice Chairman, S&P Global, Kenneth Rogoff, Harvard University professor, and Tadashi Maeda Chairman, Japan Bank for International Cooperation.

This plenary aims to highlight solutions for companies, investors and policymakers to the immense capital needs, policy tradeoffs and geopolitical implications of the ongoing energy transformation. It will also illustrate the complex challenges of financing sustainable energy expansion, coupled with the necessity for innovative investment strategies, demanding the development of new policies. The conversation seeks to answer the question: can a balanced approach to energy be achieved that effectively meets economic, energy and environmental goals?

5:15 PM – 5:30 PM CT Travel to Reception Location
919 Milam Street, #500, Houston

5:30 PM – 7:00 PM CT Reception: Unlocking Energy Affordability & Advancing Permitting Reform

The trip is organized by the Climate Solutions Foundation (CSF), a bipartisan nonprofit organization dedicated to fostering dialogue among Members of Congress, their staff, industry leaders, and global experts on climate science, economics, and policy.

CSF's interest in the subject matter of this trip is directly aligned with its mission to advance practical, bipartisan solutions to climate and energy challenges. By facilitating Member participation at CERAWeek, a premier global energy conference in Houston, Texas, CSF seeks to expose Members to diverse perspectives on the evolving energy transition, emissions reduction strategies, energy security, and the economic implications of climate policy.

CSF is responsible for organizing and conducting all aspects of the trip for participating Members of Congress, including coordination with conference organizers, development of the delegation agenda, and facilitation of Member engagement with industry, government, and thought leaders throughout the conference. CSF will manage all logistics related to Member attendance and programming during the delegation's time in Houston.

Addendum: Request for Approval of Overnight Per Diem in Houston, Texas

We respectfully request that the per diem rate noted be accepted for the overnight stay in Houston. These rooms were booked in October 2025, and we secured them at approximately $400 per night. Our research indicates that comparable accommodations in downtown Houston are currently priced at twice that amount or higher.

The primary reason for selecting downtown lodging is accessibility. Houston traffic is challenging under normal circumstances, and with an estimated 9,400 attendees in the city for CERAWeek, navigating the area becomes extraordinarily difficult. Having attended CERAWeek previously with the Climate Solutions Foundation (CSF), I can attest that traffic congestion is significant, and alternative transportation options for locations not within walking distance are extremely limited.

The Members' time in Houston is brief. They are expected to arrive on Sunday, followed by a delegation discussion with Dan Yergin, Chairman of CERAWeek, in the afternoon. This session will provide insight into the goals of CERAWeek and the history behind its founding.

On Monday, the Climate Solutions Foundation will participate in a significant portion of the CERAWeek programming, as well as roundtable discussions with other climate-focused organizations. These discussions offer Members meaningful bipartisan engagement opportunities to exchange ideas and perspectives on climate and energy issues.

Given that Members must return to Washington for votes on Tuesday, the schedule in Houston is highly compressed. Securing downtown accommodations ensures that the delegation can maximize engagement opportunities with climate and energy leaders despite the limited time available.

We appreciate consideration of this request to approve the per diem rate for these accommodations.
