COME EXPLORE
The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention

Dear Representative:

The Campaign for Public Health Foundation is organizing our next congressional tour of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention’s Atlanta headquarters. Space is limited for this one-day tour, which will take place on Tuesday, May 17, 2011. Please note this date falls during a week-long congressional recess.

This tour will help House members, or designated senior House staff members, gain a better understanding of the CDC’s health protection and health promotion efforts. “Designees” may be the member’s senior health staffer in their personal office or a professional staff member of a non-appropriations health sub-committee upon which the member serves. Participants will have the opportunity to tour the CDC’s world-class facilities, attend detailed briefings with senior CDC experts, and are expected to meet with the CDC’s director, Dr. Thomas Frieden.

Briefing topics on the tour may include but are not limited to: the CDC’s work on chronic disease prevention; the work of local health officials; emerging infectious diseases; all hazards preparedness and response efforts; global health; public health research; environmental health concerns; injury prevention; and other public health, prevention and wellness topics. A current tour agenda can be found on the reverse of this page, but may be modified to address participant’s specific areas of interest.

The Campaign for Public Health Foundation is a non-profit organization working to educate the public, the media, policy makers and others about the role public health plays in our nation’s health system. If needed, The CPH Foundation will underwrite the cost of participants’ travel, meals and accommodations. Our organization will also assist members with tour and travel logistics. We ask that participants arrive in the evening of Monday, May 16, to permit an early start for Tuesday’s tour and briefings.

We hope members of Congress will take advantage of this opportunity to tour the nation’s premier public health agency. Members and staff from past tours have praised this educational trip. If you require additional information or have any questions regarding this opportunity, please do not hesitate to contact me by calling 202-898-0435, or e-mail me at KatieT@CPHFoundation.org.

Please inform us of your interest in this tour on or before April 15 to ensure that CDC staff members are able to plan accordingly. Also note: The House Ethics Committee strongly encourages Members and staff to turn in a Private Sponsored Travel Certification Form and related documents 30 days before a trip of this nature.

Sincerely,

Katie Thaemert
