The site visit will highlight the successes and challenges of education, workforce, and poverty alleviation programs in the Boston metro area.*

Question #12 Interest and Role of Sponsors:

Jobs for the Future's (JFF's) mission is to advance education, workforce development, and poverty alleviation programs and policies that expand opportunities for youth and adults who are living in poverty and disconnected from school and work to attain the education, training, and credentials necessary to find good jobs and family sustaining careers. The Lumina Foundation is an independent, private foundation based in Indianapolis, Indiana that is committed to making opportunities for learning beyond high school available to all. The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation is based in Seattle, Washington and has a mission to create a world where every person has the opportunity to live a healthy, productive life.

Each sponsor's work is informed by research, analysis, and best practice. The missions of JFF, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, and the Lumina Foundation support the purpose of the trip: highlighting innovative, evidence-based programs and policies that drive economic mobility. Staff will see strategies that the Boston metro area is implementing to meet the region's talent needs; they will engage with workforce and education practitioners, state officials, employers, workers and learners who are involved in these programs.

JFF identifies sites of interest and priority topics to set the direction for site visit programming, including featured programs and initiatives based on their evidence base, scalability, and quality. JFF develops and executes the agenda, coordinates logistics for the trip, and serves as the point of contact for staff. The Lumina Foundation and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation fund the Congressional Staff Network and its site visits.

Question #15 Part 2, Explanation of Location Choice:

JFF selected Boston, Massachusetts for this site visit because of its innovative workforce development, education, and human services efforts. The region engages employers and collaborates across sectors to create viable pathways to quality, automation-resilient jobs in high-demand industries. These efforts are rooted in a deep understanding of the factors that contribute to Boston's stark income inequality and racial wealth gap. The city's leaders are leveraging the education and workforce systems to drive economic advancement for all Bostonians. System leaders are working together to expand on-ramps to quality jobs via strategies including short-term credentialing, sector-based approaches to training, and work-based learning.

The visit will also highlight partnerships that support student success such as early college high schools, dropout re-engagement programs, and work-based learning. These models for career-connected learning, sector-based skill development, and equity-focused economic growth initiatives will shed light on innovations in K-12, higher education, workforce development, and welfare policy.

Question #18 Good Faith Estimates for House Participants:

Transportation: Round trip coach flight from Washington, DC (DCA) to Boston, MA (BOS) = $180 per person. On the ground transportation via chartered coach bus in Boston = $120 per person. Total transportation expenses = $300 per person.

Lodging: Lodging at the Omni Parker House for one night = $229.00 per person (under the government per diem rate of $264 per night)

Meals: Meals for two days = $158.00 per person (in line with per diem)

CONGRESSIONAL STAFF NETWORK

FOR ECONOMIC ADVANCEMENT

Dear CSN members,

This is the final invitation to attend the Congressional Staff Network for Economic Advancement's August site visit. We are going to Boston, Massachusetts from Tuesday, August 23 – Wednesday, August 24, where we will explore how the city is reforming its education and workforce systems to close opportunity and wealth gaps.

During our visit to Boston, we will learn about innovative accelerated learning and career pathway models that are connecting Bostonians to good jobs in high-demand industries. Representatives from the Commonwealth's largest businesses will offer their perspective on the important role of private investment and partnership in workforce development efforts. We will see a well-established model for employer-provided training in the biotech industry at Vertex Pharmaceuticals. Administrators of the Boston healthcare industry's sector-based skill development strategy will discuss how this collaborative effort works in action with the region's workforce development system.

Staff will also hear how city and community-based organization leaders are tackling systemic inequality, particularly with regard to Boston's early childhood education and care crisis.

Each session will address the federal policy implications of these evidence-backed, scalable efforts to drive economic mobility in the region. Please respond by Friday, July 8 stating your plans for participation. Once your attendance is confirmed, our team will share final information for the trip, including the agenda and the necessary ethics documentation.

Thank you and we hope you can join us!

Best,
