Ms. Emma Zafran
Office of the Honorable Chrissy Houlahan
1727 Longworth House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Ms. Zafran:

Pursuant to House Rule 25, clause 5(d)(2), the Committee on Ethics hereby approves your proposed trip to France,¹ scheduled for April 1 to 8, 2023, sponsored by Global Women's Innovation Network. We note that this trip includes two days at your personal expense.

You must complete an Employee Post-Travel Disclosure Form (which your employing Member must also sign) and file it, together with a Sponsor Post-Travel Disclosure Form completed by the trip sponsor, with the Clerk of the House within 15 days after your return from travel. As part of that filing, you are also required to attach a copy of this letter and both the Traveler and Primary Trip Sponsor Forms (including attachments) you previously submitted to the Committee in seeking pre-approval for this trip. If you are required to file an annual Financial Disclosure Statement, you must also report all travel expenses totaling more than $480 from a single source on the "Travel" schedule of your annual Financial Disclosure Statement covering this calendar year. Finally, Travel Regulation § 404(d) also requires you to keep a copy of all request forms and supporting information provided to the Committee for three subsequent Congresses from the date of travel.

Because the trip may involve meetings with foreign government representatives, we note that House employees may accept, under the Foreign Gifts and Decorations Act (FGDA), gifts "of minimal value [currently $480] tendered as a souvenir or mark of courtesy" by a foreign government. Any tangible gifts valued in excess of minimal value received from a foreign government must, within 60 days of acceptance, be disclosed on a Form for Disclosing Gifts from Foreign Governments and either turned over to the Clerk of the House, or, with the written approval of the Committee, retained for official use.

¹ Please be aware that the Committee's review of the proposed trip does not extend to either the security situation in the destination country or security related to foreign travel in general. We recommend you contact the Office of House Security (OHS) for a safety and security briefing prior to your departure. OHS may be reached at (202) 226-2044 or ohsstaff@mail.house.gov. House travelers should also register for the U.S. State Department's Smart Traveler Enrollment Program at <https://step.state.gov>.

If you have any further questions, please contact the Committee's Office of Advice and Education at extension 5-7103.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Michael Guest". The first letter "M" is large and loops around the first few letters of the name.

Question 4: GlobalWIN Staff Delegation Invitees

The Congressional delegation of staffers joining us are senior female staff from both Republican and Democratic offices with wide-ranging work portfolios, complementing our schedule of programming. Each of these staffers were offered to participate based on the range of issues that they work on, including issues related to tech policy, transatlantic trade, telecommunications, national security, infrastructure, environmental policy, healthcare distribution, entrepreneurship and small business investment, and other innovation-driven fields. They are also great examples of women in leadership on Capitol Hill, as they are some of the highest-ranking female staffers in Congress.

6:00 PM Welcome Dinner ft. Eleanor Beardsley, NPR's Paris Correspondent
8:00 PM Chez Françoise, Aéroport des, 75007 Paris, France

Overview: During this opening dinner in Paris, we will hear from National Public Radio's Paris Correspondent, Eleanor Beardsley. Eleanor Beardsley began reporting from France for NPR in 2004 as a freelance journalist, following all aspects of French society, politics, economics, culture and gastronomy. Since then, she has steadily worked her way to becoming an integral part of the NPR Europe reporting team.

Beardsley has been an active part of NPR's coverage of terrorist attacks in Paris and in Brussels. She has also followed the migrant crisis, traveling to meet and report on arriving refugees in Hungary, Austria, Germany, Sweden and France. She has also traveled to Ukraine, including the flashpoint eastern city of Donetsk, to report on the war there, and to Athens, to follow the Greek debt crisis.

In 2011, Beardsley covered the first Arab Spring revolution in Tunisia, where she witnessed the overthrow of the autocratic President Zine el-Abidine Ben Ali. Since then, she has returned to the North African country many times.

In France, Beardsley has covered three presidential elections, including the surprising win by outsider Emmanuel Macron in 2017. Less than two years later, Macron's presidency was severely tested by France's Yellow vest movement, which Beardsley followed closely.

12:30 PM How the United States Navigates European Data Privacy Laws with Oracle

2:30 PM Euros / Agency Group: 1 Pl. d'Estienne d'Orves

Overview: The European data privacy law known as GDPR safeguards the information of anyone living in the EU. The GDPR applies to companies outside the EU because it is extra-territorial in scope. Specifically, the law is designed not so much to regulate businesses as it is to protect the data subjects' rights. A "data subject" is any person in the EU, including citizens, residents, and even, perhaps, visitors. Many US tech companies have found the law probative as even anti-democratic, and have been fighting the law since it went into effect. During this meeting we will learn about the law and how it effects US companies. We will also hear from Oracle about their unique approach to compliance, while acknowledging how other US companies are responding to the law.

10-minute drive or 20-minute walk

3:00 PM Political Briefing with the United States Embassy in France

5:30 PM US Ambassador's Residence: E2 Av. Gabriel

Overview: This meeting at the United States Ambassador's Residence will be broken into four parts. First we will hear remarks by United States Ambassador to France Denise Campbell Bauer about her journey to this post and her priorities as Ambassador to France. Next, we will be joined by members of the Embassy's political team for a roundtable discussion on US-French diplomatic priorities. The third section will be a panel discussion by the US Delegation to the European Union on how United States works with the EU and how France has become the central figure in this discussion. Finally, we will be joined by many members of the US mission to France for a networking reception and opportunity for our delegation to meet the women in this mission.

Question 12

GlobalWIN highlights women leaders and connects the public and private sector through our programming that includes networking receptions, policy roundtables, career workshops, and educational trips in the United States and abroad. Our stay in Paris will combine all tiers of GlobalWIN programming and provide all participants a rare opportunity to learn about other governments and industries while connecting with experts and leaders outside of the U.S. GlobalWIN has organized and planned the trip with the professional guidance of our Executive Director, and GlobalWIN Co-Founder, Helen Milby, Tizzy Brown our Senior Director, Andrea Mietus our Senior Advisor and Quinn Needham, Program Coordinator

Question 15-A

We chose Paris, France this year since we have not been to Paris since 2018. As a hub for commerce, innovation, entrepreneurial activity, and increasing political role in the EU, Paris, France was chosen as the location for many of those reasons. With access to direct flights from Washington this made for a good selection. In addition, over the years GlobalWIN continues to strengthen their relationship with the French Embassy in Washington, DC and has been provided great programming and partnership opportunities over the years. This year during the initial planning of our international trip it became very evident to the team planning that 2.5 days of programming was not sufficient based on the opportunities and the caliber of meetings available to our delegation, so we extended it to 3.5 days of programming. This will allow GlobalWIN the time needed to expand networking learning opportunities for this incredible staff delegation.

Hillary Beard, Chief of Staff, Rep. Terri A. Sewell

Hillary Beard is Congresswoman Terri A. Sewell's (AL-07) Chief of Staff, a position she has held since December 2020. In this role, Hillary is responsible for managing staff, advising on political issues, and directing the execution of the office's long-term legislative and political strategy. She manages Congresswoman Sewell's duties as Chief Deputy Whip, a member of the Ways and Means Committee, House Committee on Armed Services (HASC), and the Committee on House Administration, and Chair of the Congressional Black Caucus Foundation's Board of Directors. After interning for Congresswoman Sewell in 2012, she was hired as a Press Assistant and rose through the ranks from Legislative Assistant to Legislative Director prior to being named Chief of Staff. As a legislative staffer, she was responsible for executing on a wide array of legislative issues, including the Congresswoman's health care work on the Ways and Means Committee. Hillary is originally from Guntersville, Alabama and is a graduate of Birmingham-Southern College. She lives in Washington, DC and loves shopping for antiques, hosting parties, and eating ice cream.

Megan Bel Miller, Chief of Staff, Rep. Steve Scalise

Megan Bel Miller is the Chief of Staff to Congressman Steve Scalise, who currently serves as the House Majority Leader. Miller has held this position since January of 2017. In this role, Miller serves as a Senior Advisor to Leader Scalise and leads the efforts of Scalise's legislative, district, and press teams in his Congressional office. From 2013-2016, she was the Vice President of Government and Political Affairs at the National Ocean Industries Association (NOIA), the trade association for the offshore energy industry. Prior to NOIA, Miller was Congressman Scalise's Legislative Director from 2008-2013 and served as a Legislative Assistant for then-Rep. Richard Baker from 2006-2008. Before moving to Washington, DC, she was a Policy Advisor in the Louisiana Governor's Office. A native of Louisiana, Miller received a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and Master of Public Administration from Louisiana State University. She and her husband, Joel, live on Capitol Hill with their two young children.

Brooke Bennett, Chief of Staff, Rep. French Hill

A. Brooke Bennett has served as Chief of Staff to Rep. French Hill since his election in 2014 and has served in the House since 2005. She first served as an investigative counsel on the House Oversight Committee and then as Legislative Director for two Members of Congress including Rep. Hill's predecessor. Prior to coming to Congress, she worked for Arthur Andersen based in London for nearly seven years. As a Chief of Staff, she has stressed the importance of a professionally managed office, and in 2021, the office won the Congressional Management Foundation's prestigious "Democracy Award" for the best workplace environment. She prioritizes staff development and institution building and runs a mentoring program for female for GOP female Chiefs of Staff that she founded as well as the first-of-its-kind listserv for House Chiefs on both sides of the aisle. A Stennis Fellow in the 115th Congress, she is a regular featured speaker including, recently, for the Manager Tool "M Conference" series. She is a Washington, DC native and a graduate of Smith College and Tulane Law School, but most importantly, she and her husband are the parents of a feisty and highly amusing toddler – her proudest accomplishment of all.

Colleen Carlos, Chief of Staff, Rep. Madeleine Dean

Colleen Carlos is the Chief of Staff for Rep. Madeleine Dean (D-PA) – who serves on the Judiciary and Foreign Affairs Committees. Prior to this, she was Rep. Dean's Legislative Director and primarily covered the Financial Services Committee portfolio. Before coming on board with Rep. Dean, Colleen worked for Rep. Jessica has spent several years conducting oversight and investigations in the House of Representatives, including on the Committees for Oversight and Government Reform, Energy and Commerce, and Small Business. She graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 2003 and Notre Dame Law School in 2009. She lives in Bethesda, Maryland with her husband and three children.

Tiffany Guarascio, Democratic Staff Director, House Energy and Commerce Committee

Tiffany Guarascio is the Democratic Staff Director for the powerful House Energy and Commerce Committee. In 2021, she became the first woman and mother selected to hold this position for the Majority in the Committee's 225-year history. The Committee on Energy and Commerce is the oldest continuous standing committee in the United States House of Representatives. The Committee has the broadest jurisdiction of any committee in Congress and is responsible for shaping public policy issues that impact the lives of every American, including: health care, energy, climate, telecommunications, consumer protection, and commerce.

Tiffany is responsible for working with the Committee's elected leaders to develop, manage and execute the Committee's agenda across these key policy areas. This includes leading staff efforts to pass legislation into law, conduct oversight of 16 federal departments and agencies, and examine critical national issues through hearings and investigations. She also coordinates with House and Senate committee and leadership offices, as well as the White House and Executive Branch on political and policy matters. Tiffany's role also includes running the day-to-day operations for the Committee, leading a professional staff of nearly 40 people and overseeing a multi-million dollar budget.

Over the course of her career, Tiffany has played a leading role in advancing key public policies that have improved the health and well-being of the nation. During the COVID-19 public health emergency, Tiffany was at the forefront of efforts to ensure the country had the resources and authorities it needed to respond. In addition, Tiffany helped pass many other critical laws such as the 21st Century Cures Act, the No Surprises Act and the American Rescue Plan. Most recently, she led the Committee's efforts to pass the CHIPS & Science Act, the Inflation Reduction Act, and the Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2022.

Tiffany has nearly two decades of Congressional experience. The majority of her tenure on Capitol Hill has been spent working for Rep. Frank Pallone, Jr. (NJ), one of the most senior members of the House of Representatives, who now serves as the Chairman of the House Energy and Commerce Committee.

Tiffany earned a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and a Master of Arts in Political Management from the George Washington University. She lives on Capitol Hill with her husband Matt, their sons Arlo and Auden, and their dog Boss.
