House staff were invited because of their work on education, workforce development, and social welfare issues. All have responsibility for these federal issues in their offices. The site visit will highlight the successes and challenges of education, workforce, and poverty alleviation programs in Chicago.

Question #12 Interest and Role of Sponsors:

Jobs for the Future (JFF) identifies sites of interest and priority topics to set the direction for site visit programming, including featured programs and initiatives based on their evidence base, scalability, and quality. JFF develops and executes the agenda, coordinates logistics for the trip, and serves as the point of contact for staff. JFF will use grant funding from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and the Conrad N. Hilton Foundation to support the Congressional Staff Network and its site visits.

Question #15 (B) Part 2, Explanation of Location Choice:

JFF selected Chicago, Illinois for this site visit because of the innovative workforce development, education, and reentry efforts happening on the ground, as well as the unique challenges the city faces in reducing poverty and engaging young people. The city's secondary and postsecondary systems recently launched a partnership to strengthen their emphasis on career-connected learning and career pathways, and to expand access to college in high school and dual enrollment opportunities for secondary students.

This site visit will highlight how major employers are collaborating within their industry sectors and across systems to provide on-ramps to quality jobs and engage in efforts to address community challenges. The healthcare sector, in particular, is working to create "career ladder" opportunities for community members, incumbent workers, and students to enter high-demand, high-wage jobs and advance economically.

Each session will explore the implications of this innovative work on the ground for federal K-12, higher education, and workforce development policy, specifically on: support strategies and career pathways approaches for people who have not historically received equitable investment from the public or private sector.

Question #18 Total Expenses for Each House Participant (Good Faith Estimates):

Transportation: Round trip coach flight from Washington, DC (DCA) to Chicago, IL (MDW) = $382 per person. On the ground transportation via chartered coach bus in Chicago = $100 per person. Total transportation expenses = $482 per person.

Lodging: Lodging at the Loews Chicago Hotel for one night = $216.00 per person (in line with the government per diem rate of $216 per night)

Meals: Meals for two days = $78.00 per person per day (in line with GSA per diem rates)

Dear CSN members,

I am writing to invite your participation in the Congressional Staff Network for Economic Advancement's spring site visit to Chicago, Illinois from Wednesday, April 12—Thursday, April 13.

During the trip, staff will learn about the city's education, workforce, and economic strengths, as well as its challenges in realizing a shared vision for inclusive economic growth. We will hear from the employers, educators, and training providers who are involved in the implementation of Good Jobs Chicago, a major sector-based workforce development initiative to create pathways to high-demand, high-wage jobs for communities that have been underserved by public and private institutions. Administrators of the Chicago Roadmap, an innovative partnership between City Colleges of Chicago and Chicago Public Schools, will discuss the city's system-wide college and career pathways efforts. Staff will also learn how local community-based organizations have built a continuum of supports and services to help people with criminal records successfully reenter their communities.

Each session will address the federal policy implications of these evidence-based, cross-sector efforts to drive economic mobility. Please respond to confirm your participation by Friday, February 24. Once you confirm your plans to participate, our team will share final information for the trip, including the agenda and the necessary ethics documentation.

Thank you and we hope you can join us!

Best,

Mary G. Clagett

House staff were invited because of their work on education, workforce development, and social welfare issues. All have responsibility for these federal issues in their offices. The site visit will highlight the successes and challenges of education, workforce, and poverty alleviation programs in Chicago.

Question #12 Interest and Role of Sponsors:

Jobs for the Future (JFF) identifies sites of interest and priority topics to set the direction for site visit programming, including featured programs and initiatives based on their evidence base, scalability, and quality. JFF develops and executes the agenda, coordinates logistics for the trip, and serves as the point of contact for staff. JFF will use grant funding from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation to support the Congressional Staff Network and its site visits.

Question #15 (B) Part 2, Explanation of Location Choice:

JFF selected Chicago, Illinois for this site visit because of the innovative workforce development, education, and reentry efforts happening on the ground, as well as the unique challenges the city faces in reducing poverty and engaging young people. The city's secondary and postsecondary systems recently launched a partnership to strengthen their emphasis on career-connected learning and career pathways, and to expand access to college in high school and dual enrollment opportunities for secondary students.

This site visit will highlight how major employers are collaborating within their industry sectors and across systems to provide on-ramps to quality jobs and engage in efforts to address community challenges. The healthcare sector, in particular, is working to create "career ladder" opportunities for community members, incumbent workers, and students to enter high-demand, high-wage jobs and advance economically.

Each session will explore the implications of this innovative work on the ground for federal K-12, higher education, and workforce development policy, specifically on: support strategies and career pathways approaches for people who have not historically received equitable investment from the public or private sector.

Question #18 Total Expenses for Each House Participant (Good Faith Estimates):

Transportation: Round trip coach flight from Washington, DC (DCA) to Chicago, IL (MDW) = $382 per person. On the ground transportation via chartered coach bus in Chicago = $100 per person. Total transportation expenses = $482 per person.

Lodging: Lodging at the Loews Chicago Hotel for one night = $216.00 per person (in line with the government per diem rate of $216 per night)

Meals: Meals for two days = $158.00 per person (in line with per diem)

FOR ECONOMIC ADVANCEMENT

Dear CSN members,

I am writing to invite your participation in the Congressional Staff Network for Economic Advancement's spring site visit to Chicago, Illinois from Wednesday, April 12—Thursday, April 13.

During the trip, staff will learn about the city's education, workforce, and economic strengths, as well as its challenges in realizing a shared vision for inclusive economic growth. We will hear from the employers, educators, and training providers who are involved in the implementation of Good Jobs Chicago, a major sector-based workforce development initiative to create pathways to high-demand, high-wage jobs for communities that have been underserved by public and private institutions. Administrators of the Chicago Roadmap, an innovative partnership between City Colleges of Chicago and Chicago Public Schools, will discuss the city's system-wide college and career pathways efforts. Staff will also learn how local community-based organizations have built a continuum of supports and services to help people with criminal records successfully reenter their communities.

Each session will address the federal policy implications of these evidence-based, cross-sector efforts to drive economic mobility. Please respond to confirm your participation by Friday, February 24. Once you confirm your plans to participate, our team will share final information for the trip, including the agenda and the necessary ethics documentation.

Thank you and we hope you can join us!

Best,
