FRS Congressional Broadband Tour Minnesota and North Dakota August 15-18, 2023

The Foundation for Rural Service (FRS) is a 501c3 non-profit dedicated to enhancing quality of life in America by promoting a better understanding of rural issues. The vision of FRS is to harness the power of the rural communications industry to enrich lives in America.

The purpose of this trip is to educate Capitol Hill staff on the geographic and financial challenges of providing robust broadband service to remote rural areas, as well as to highlight the role rural telecom companies play in providing these essential services that support education, commercial activity, agriculture, health, and public safety. Attendees will meet with a range of small, rural telecommunications companies in North Dakota and Minnesota as well as companies that rely on broadband to provide essential services to their communities. The group will also visit rural community leaders and discuss ways in which the state has been enhanced by broadband applications. Drive times will provide an opportunity for educational sessions on the bus, as well as illustrate the difficulty of serving “last mile” areas in rural states.

No registered federal lobbyists will attend this trip. All expenses will be paid in full by the Foundation for Rural Service (FRS) and will be subject to the daily per diem allowances for Senate and House employees—all meals, lodging, and transportation for staffers will be covered by FRS within these allowance rates.

2:00 – 3:00 pm

Discussion about the Metro Flood Diversion Project. The Red River is unique due to its low gradient and northward flow. These features also lead to a high flooding risk. Ice melt comes earlier in southern regions, causing ice jams and other conditions that result in flooding nearly every year. This makes the Red River Valley one of the most flood-prone areas in the U.S. Extreme precipitation, two inches or more, has increased in frequency since 1990 and has worsened further since 2015.

Red River flooding in 1997 demonstrated the devastating effects a disaster can have on a single metro area. Damages in Grand Forks, North Dakota and East Grand Forks, Minnesota amounted to $3.5 billion (over $6.4 billion when adjusted for inflation). Knowing that a 100-year or 500-year flood event would likely cause even greater damage to the more-developed Fargo-Moorhead metro area puts flood protection measures in perspective as a worthwhile investment.

The Metro Flood Diversion Authority is responsible for ensuring the safe and timely construction of the Fargo-Moorhead Area Diversion. The public-private partnership, or P3 approach, is the first of its kind for flood management projects in North America, with the working together of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Red River Valley Alliance (RRVA), cities of Fargo and Moorhead and Cass and Clay counties to drive construction. The target for delivering permanent, reliable flood protection is 2027.

Discussion will include how broadband providers in both North Dakota and Minnesota must contend with the current and projected construction of the flood diversion project as well as potential flood damage from future storms.

- Joel Paulsen, Executive Director, Metro Flood Diversion Authority

102 1st Street W

12:00 – 2:00 pm Lunch and panel discussion about economic development, tribal communities, and the importance of broadband in rural areas -- With innovative manufacturers, aspiring entrepreneurs and growing retail and services sector, the greater Bemidji region serves as the center for economic development for all of northern Minnesota.

The Red Lake Indian Reservation (Ojibwe: Miskwaagamiiwi-zaaga'iganing) covers 1,260.3 sq mi (806,600 acres) in parts of nine counties in northwestern Minnesota. It is made up of numerous holdings but the largest section is an area about Red Lake, in north-central Minnesota, the largest lake in the state. This section lies primarily in the counties of Beltrami and Clearwater. Land in seven other counties is also part of the reservation. The reservation population was 5,506 in the 2020 census. Home to the federally recognized Red Lake Band of Chippewa, it is unique as the only “closed reservation” in Minnesota. In a closed reservation, all land is held in common by the tribe and there is no private property. As of 2011, the Ojibwe language is the official language of Red Lake. Red Lake is among the most isolated reservations in the United States.

Serving the area since 1952, Paul Bunyan Communications is a member-owned broadband cooperative providing fiber optic Internet up to 10 Gig, television, voice, and IT services. Attendees will learn about Paul Bunyan Communication’s partnership with the Red Lake Nation, especially in outreach about the FCC’s Affordable Connectivity Program (ACP). Paul Bunyan Communications has also placed a focus on promoting esports and gaming to attract young people to the telecommunications workforce. Visit Paul Bunyan and Babe statues and Visitors Center

300 Bemidji Ave N
Bemidji, MN 56601

As early as the 1890s, Bemidji enjoyed a modest tourist trade. When rail connections were constructed to Bemidji in 1898, promoters began the development of lakeshore sites for cottages, hotels, and resorts. Most of these resorts catered to hunters and anglers. In the 1920s the rise in automobile popularity and affordability contributed to a significant boom in Bemidji's tourist industry, but it suffered during the Great Depression. As a means of stimulating tourism in Bemidji, local civic organizations sponsored a winter carnival meant to promote the city's resources for winter sports. Due to Bemidji's once prominent status as a logging and lumbering center, the celebrations focused on Paul Bunyan, the larger-than life lumberjack who is an American folk hero. On January 14, 1937 the carnival opened with two giant statues to serve as mascots: one of Bunyan and the other of his giant blue ox, Babe. Paul Bunyan Communications provides the broadband service to the Visitors Center to facilitate sales of items and the live webcam that can be accessed by anybody around the world.

7:00 – 9:00 pm

Dinner and Panel Discussion about State Broadband Funding and Planning. The Minnesota Office of Broadband Development was created by the Minnesota Legislature in 2013 at the same time one of the nation's first broadband grant program was established. The Minnesota Border-to-Border Broadband grant program was established in 2014 to help achieve the State's goal of true border to border broadband for all Minnesotans. Dubbed "the Minnesota Model", Minnesota's grant program has been used as a model by several other states and federal programs. The FCC made Minnesota's definition of Unserved (less than 25Mbps download, 3 Mbps upload) and Underserved (25Mbps download and 3 Mbps upload, but less than 100Mbps download and 20Mbps upload) the national standard.

On June 28, 2023 Minnesota was awarded $652 million as part of the National Telecommunications and Information Administration's Broadband Equity Access and Deployment (BEAD) Program. It is the intention of Minnesota's administration to run those funds through the existing, proven Border-to-Border Broadband grant program.

Speakers:

- Bree Maki, Executive Director, Office of Broadband Development. Bree is the 3rd Executive Director appointed by Governor Walz in October of 2022. Prior to that she was a state staffer for Senators Franken and Smith with a primary focus on Broadband. She has long been an advocate for rural Minnesota serving on the Lewiston-Altura School Board for many years, currently serving as Board Chair. Bree also chairs the Southeast Service Coop, which provides services to school districts in southeastern Minnesota.
- Sen. Torrey Westrom, businessman and member of the Minnesota Senate. A Republican, he represents District 12, which includes all or parts of Big Stone, Douglas, Grant, Pope, Stearns, Stevens, Traverse and Wilkin Counties. He is the first known blind person to be elected to the Minnesota Legislature.
- Rep. Mary Franson, is currently serving her 7th term in the Minnesota House of Representatives. She represents Douglas and part of Stearns Counties. She was first elected in 2010. She currently serves on the Sustainable Infrastructure policy, Capital Investment, and Human Service Finance Committees.
