4) House Members/Staff and Explanation as to why they are invited

Rep. Lori Chavez-DeRemer (OR-05): Rep. Lori Chavez-DeRemer has been extended an invitation to participate in the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to her demonstrated commitment to role on the Transportation and Infrastructure and Education and Workforce Committees. Her presence signifies an earnest effort to engage with various stakeholders, including the Carpenters Union Training Facility, symbolizing her interest in the concerns of the labor force and their contributions to the economy. Moreover, the visit to the Amazon Sorting Warehouse reflects her eagerness to comprehend the dynamics of modern commerce and employment practices. Additionally, her visit to the CalPortland Black pearlite mine underscores her dedication to understanding and supporting the industrial sector, showcasing her interest in the mining industry and its significance in both local and national economies.

Jihun Han (Chief of Staff, Rep. Chavez-DeRemer): Jihun Han, as Chief of Staff to Rep. Lori Chavez-DeRemer, has been invited to participate in the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his extensive expertise in legislative affairs and knowledge of the Transportation and Infrastructure and Education and Workforce Committees. His background in working closely with Rep. Chavez-DeRemer in crafting policies that support job growth, workforce development, and economic opportunities makes him an invaluable asset for understanding the significance of visiting key locations like the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black pearlite mine. Given his involvement in shaping legislation that promotes skilled labor, commerce, and sustainable resource management, Han's insights and knowledge will greatly benefit the trip's discussions on how to foster economic growth, strengthen labor partnerships, and address pertinent issues within these industries.

Patrick Mocete (Chief of Staff, Rep. Young Kim): Patrick Mocete, Chief of Staff to Rep. Young Kim, has been invited to attend a Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his influential role and expertise in policymaking as well as his boss' role on the Financial Services Committee. His presence on this trip holds significance as it aligns with the partnership's aim to bridge the gap between government, businesses, and communities. This trip serves as a platform for Patrick Mocete to gather pertinent information, engage in dialogue, and potentially contribute to informed policy discussions that can positively impact Rep. Young Kim's constituents and the broader community.

Mark Dreiling (Chief of Staff, Rep. Don Bacon): Mark Dreiling, as the Chief of Staff to Rep. Don Bacon, has been extended an invitation to join the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his significant role in aiding Rep. Bacon's legislative initiatives and his comprehensive understanding of critical policy areas. His expertise and insight into the congressman's agenda make his presence invaluable during this trip, particularly in engaging with various stakeholders such as the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black pearlite mine. Dreiling's involvement ensures a well-informed representation of Rep. Bacon's priorities and facilitates meaningful discussions on crucial topics like workforce development, labor relations, economic growth, and industry-specific concerns within these sectors.

Jeff Bishop (Chief of Staff, Rep. Marc Molinaro): Jeff Bishop, Chief of Staff to Rep. Marc Molinaro (NY), has been extended an invitation to participate in the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas, particularly to visit the Carpenters Union Training Facility. This invitation underscores the pivotal role of labor issues within Molinaro's district. Jeff Bishop can gain valuable insights into the labor landscape, enabling Molinaro's office to craft informed policies that support the workforce, promote job growth, and strengthen the local economy.

Micah Ketchel (Chief of Staff, Rep. Mike Waltz): Micah Ketchel, Chief of Staff to Rep. Mike Waltz, has been invited to partake in the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his extensive expertise in policy areas that directly intersect with the industries and facilities on the itinerary. With a profound understanding of labor relations, infrastructure, and economic development, Ketchel's insights are invaluable during visits to crucial sites like the Carpenters Union Training Facility, where his knowledge of labor issues can foster meaningful discussions. Additionally, his background in legislative affairs and understanding of trade and commerce make him an ideal participant for exploring the Amazon Sorting Warehouse and CalPortland Black pearlite mine, where discussions about logistics, trade, and the mining industry are expected to occur. Ketchel's multifaceted expertise and strategic insights make him an instrumental addition to the delegation, poised to contribute significantly to discussions that directly impact the nation's economic landscape.

Deena Tauster (Chief of Staff, Rep. Andrew Garbarino) Deena Tauster, Chief of Staff to Rep. Andrew Garbarino, has been invited to participate in the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to her extensive expertise and leadership in understanding the intricate intersections of policy, labor, and industry. Her comprehensive insights into the legislative process, particularly concerning issues pertinent to the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black pearlite mine, make her an invaluable asset on this trip. Given her commitment to bridging the gap between government and private sector interests, her presence ensures a meaningful exchange of ideas, fostering productive dialogues between Republican officials and key stakeholders within these vital industries. Tauster's strategic vision and ability to navigate complex issues make her an ideal participant in this venture, promising constructive discussions and potential pathways for collaborative policy advancements.

Jason Galanes (Chief of Staff, Rep. Mike Turner) Jason Galanes, Chief of Staff to Rep. Mike Turner, has been invited to attend a Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his crucial role in representing the interests and concerns of the district. His presence on this trip is integral as it offers an opportunity to gain valuable insights into various facets of the local economy and workforce development. Visiting the Carpenters Union Training Facility allows him to understand the skill-building initiatives crucial for the district's labor force. Exploring the Amazon Sorting Warehouse provides a glimpse into the evolving landscape of e-commerce and its impact on local employment. Moreover, the visit to the CalPortland Black pearlite mine offers insights into the mining sector, an industry of significance to the district's economy. Jason Galanes's attendance on this trip serves to better inform Rep. Mike Turner's policy decisions by offering firsthand knowledge of key industries vital to their constituency's prosperity and development.

Rep. Chuck Edwards (NC-11) Rep. Chuck Edwards has been invited to partake in a Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his invaluable role in advocating for economic growth and workforce development within his district. As a staunch supporter of vocational education and job creation initiatives, Edwards' commitment to bolstering skilled labor aligns perfectly with the itinerary of this trip. Visiting the Carpenters Union Training Facility highlights his dedication to nurturing trade skills essential for the workforce, while touring the Amazon Sorting Warehouse emphasizes his interest in understanding modern logistics and distribution networks. Additionally, exploring the CalPortland Black pearlite mine underscores his focus on the importance of the mining industry and its impact on the economy of his district. Rep. Edwards' participation demonstrates his proactive approach in gaining insights into diverse industries, fostering economic prosperity, and ensuring his district remains at the forefront of innovation and job opportunities.

Rep. Nick Lalota (NY-01): Rep. Nick LaLota has been extended an invitation to join the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his pivotal role in advocating for the interests of his district. With his steadfast commitment to representing the constituents of his area, his presence on this trip is essential in gaining firsthand insight into various critical industries impacting his district's economy. Visiting the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black pearlite mine allows Rep. LaLota to engage directly with key stakeholders and workers in these sectors. By understanding the operations and challenges faced by these industries, Rep. LaLota can better champion policies and initiatives that support job growth, economic development, and the welfare of his constituents back in New York. This opportunity provides him with valuable knowledge to further his efforts in promoting the prosperity and well-being of his district.

Lorissa Bounds (Chief of Staff, Rep. Jay Obernolte) Lorissa Bounds, as Chief of Staff to Rep. Jay Obernolte, has been invited to partake in the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to her significant role in overseeing and strategizing on matters vital to the district's interests. Given her influential position within the congressman's team, Bounds brings an insightful perspective on key issues impacting their constituency. The trip's itinerary, including visits to the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black pearlite mine, aligns closely with Obernolte's district concerns—ranging from labor and workforce development represented by the Carpenters Union to economic growth and commerce as seen in the Amazon Sorting Warehouse. Additionally, the exploration of the CalPortland Black pearlite mine underscores the significance of resource industries within the district.

Rep. Mike Lawler (NY-17) Representative Mike Lawler has been extended an invitation to join the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his steadfast commitment to understanding and supporting the diverse economic landscape within his district. With a keen focus on economic development and job creation, Lawler's representation has emphasized the importance of engaging with various industries. This trip offers a unique opportunity for him to visit crucial sites such as the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black pearlite mine, allowing him to gain firsthand insights into the operations and challenges faced by these sectors. Lawler's presence underscores his dedication to advocating for policies that bolster job growth and economic vitality within his district, fostering stronger ties between government initiatives and the needs of local businesses and workers.

Rep. Laurel Lee (FL-15) Rep. Laurel Lee has been invited to attend the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to her dedication to understanding and addressing the diverse economic landscape within her district. Visiting the Carpenters Union Training Facility highlights her support for skilled labor development, while exploring the Amazon Sorting Warehouse demonstrates her interest in understanding modern logistics and distribution channels. Additionally, the visit to the CalPortland Black pearlite mine underscores her commitment to comprehending and supporting the mining sector, a vital contributor to her district's economic vitality.

Rep. Anthony D'Esposito (NY-04) Representative Anthony D'Esposito has been invited to participate in a Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his pivotal role in advocating for the interests of his district. His consistent support for economic growth and job creation aligns with the objectives of this excursion, which includes visits to significant sites such as the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black pearlite mine. These visits directly relate to the economic landscape of his district, offering valuable insights into workforce development and technological advancements in logistics.

Robert Gies (Chief of Staff, Rep. Anthony D'Esposito): Robert Gies, as the Chief of Staff for Rep. Anthony D'Esposito, has been invited to join the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his pivotal role in understanding and advocating for the needs of their district. His presence on this trip holds significance as it offers an invaluable opportunity to witness and comprehend the workings of diverse industries crucial to their district's economy. Visiting the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black pearlite mine allows Gies to gain firsthand knowledge about the labor force, infrastructure, and resources impacting their district. This experience enables him to better support policies and initiatives that positively influence the district's economic growth, job creation, and overall welfare.

Rep. Max Miller: Rep. Max Miller has been invited to join the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his commitment to understanding and supporting the diverse economic landscape of his district. With his district encompassing a range of industries, including manufacturing, logistics, and construction, Rep. Miller's presence on this trip is vital in gaining firsthand knowledge of key facilities like the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon

Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black perlite mine. His participation underscores his dedication to advocating for policies that promote job growth, economic prosperity, and the well-being of workers within his district.

Andrew Christianson (Chief of Staff, Rep. Dusty Johnson): Andrew Christianson, Chief of Staff to Rep. Dusty Johnson, has been extended an invitation to join the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his pivotal role in representing the interests and concerns of South Dakota's constituents. His presence on this trip holds immense value as it provides an opportunity to witness and engage firsthand with diverse industries, such as the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black perlite mine. By participating, Christianson can gain insights into these sectors crucial to his district, fostering a deeper understanding of their operations, challenges, and potential opportunities for collaboration and growth.

Jazmine Kemp (Executive Director, Main Street Caucus) Jazmine Kemp, as Executive Director of the Main Street Caucus, has been invited to participate in the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to her integral role in connecting the Caucus' role with key industries and stakeholders. Her presence on this trip holds significant value in fostering relationships and understanding firsthand the operations at critical sites such as the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black perlite mine. Through her involvement, Kemp aims to gain insights that directly impact the Caucus, fostering partnerships, and advocating for policies that support economic growth, workforce development, and infrastructure.

Joe Ellis (Chief of Staff, Rep. Max Miller) Joe Ellis, Chief of Staff to Rep. Max Miller, has been invited to join the Republican Main Street Partnership trip to Las Vegas due to his integral role in understanding the diverse needs of their district. Given his position and close collaboration with Representative Miller, Ellis possesses a keen insight into the local priorities and interests of their constituents. The visit to the Carpenters Union Training Facility, Amazon Sorting Warehouse, and CalPortland Black perlite mine aligns perfectly with Ellis's responsibilities as it allows him to gain firsthand knowledge about various industries crucial to their district's economy. This trip enables him to better advocate for policies that support Ohio.

12) describe the sponsor's interest in the subject matter of the trip and its role in organizing and/or conducting the trip:

The Republican Main Street Partnership is a coalition of conservatives who get things done. This March, we are excited to be sending a coalition of Members and Chiefs of Staff to Las Vegas to visit a variety of crucial industries. As one of the largest cities in the Southwest, Las Vegas is home to the Carpenters Union International Training Facility, state of the art Amazon logistics centers, and a Black Pearlite mine just outside of the city. Sending Members of Congress ensures that our elected officials get firsthand knowledge about the latest technology and innovation in the workforce, infrastructure, and energy sectors. RMSP planned the whole trip - we organized flights, the hotel, and meals.

Dear Mr. Galanes:

Pursuant to House Rule 25, clause 5(d)(2), the Committee on Ethics hereby approves your proposed trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, scheduled for February 1 to 4, 2024, sponsored by Republican Main Street Partnership.

You must complete an Employee Post-Travel Disclosure Form (which your employing Member must also sign) and file it, together with a Sponsor Post-Travel Disclosure Form completed by the trip sponsor, with the Clerk of the House within 15 days after your return from travel. As part of that filing, you are also required to attach a copy of this letter and both the Traveler and Primary Trip Sponsor Forms (including attachments) you previously submitted to the Committee in seeking pre-approval for this trip. If you are required to file an annual Financial Disclosure Statement, you must also report all travel expenses totaling more than $480 from a single source on the "Travel" schedule of your annual Financial Disclosure Statement covering this calendar year. Finally, Travel Regulation § 404(d) also requires you to keep a copy of all request forms and supporting information provided to the Committee for three subsequent Congresses from the date of travel.

If you have any further questions, please contact the Committee's Office of Advice and Education at extension 5-7103.

Sincerely,

Michael Guest
