Mr. Jackson Gross
Office of the Honorable John James
1319 Longworth House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Mr. Gross:

Pursuant to House Rule 25, clause 5(d)(2), the Committee on Ethics hereby approves your proposed trip to Salt Lake City, Utah, scheduled for June 6 to 9, 2024, sponsored by Republican Main Street Partnership.

You must complete an Employee Post-Travel Disclosure Form (which your employing Member must also sign) and file it, together with a Sponsor Post-Travel Disclosure Form completed by the trip sponsor, with the Clerk of the House within 15 days after your return from travel. As part of that filing, you are also required to attach a copy of this letter and both the Traveler and Primary Trip Sponsor Forms (including attachments) you previously submitted to the Committee in seeking pre-approval for this trip. If you are required to file an annual Financial Disclosure Statement, you must also report all travel expenses totaling more than $480 from a single source on the "Travel" schedule of your annual Financial Disclosure Statement covering this calendar year. Finally, Travel Regulation § 404(d) also requires you to keep a copy of all request forms and supporting information provided to the Committee for three subsequent Congresses from the date of travel.

If you have any further questions, please contact the Committee's Office of Advice and Education at extension 5-7103.

Sincerely,

Michael Guest
Chairman

4) House Staff and Explanation as to Why They Are Invited

Jason Galanes, Chief of Staff to Rep. Mike Turner, is invited to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City, Utah, due to his crucial role in legislative affairs and his close association with Representative Turner. His attendance ensures representation of Turner's interests and perspectives during the tour, which encompasses visits to significant sites such as the Nammo facility, the Wells Fargo Center, and a BioMeriueux R&D facility, providing opportunities for networking, collaboration, and gaining insights into various industries and issues pertinent to their constituents.

Jake Dumas, as Chief of Staff to Rep. Mike Flood, holds a pivotal role in navigating legislative priorities and fostering key relationships within the Republican Party. His invitation to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City reflects his influence and expertise in advancing conservative agendas. Given the tour's itinerary, which includes visits to significant industrial and research facilities, Dumas's insights and connections could prove invaluable in shaping policies related to defense, finance, and healthcare innovation. Additionally, his presence underscores Rep. Flood's commitment to engaging with diverse sectors and stakeholders in driving economic growth and technological advancement.

Jeff Bishop, Chief of Staff to Rep. Marc Molinaro, is invited to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City, Utah, due to his expertise in legislative affairs and his ability to facilitate productive dialogue between policymakers and industry leaders. His presence ensures that the tour benefits from his insights into key issues affecting the region, including defense manufacturing, finance, biotechnology, and economic development.

Nikki Wallace, as Chief of Staff to Rep. Mike Simpson, received an invitation to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City due to her influential role within the congressman's office and her expertise in navigating legislative affairs. Her presence ensures a direct link between Rep. Simpson's office and the tour's objectives, fostering communication and potential collaboration between the congressman's priorities and the tour's agenda. Additionally, her participation may facilitate networking opportunities and valuable insights into the various industries and facilities being visited, aligning with the Republican Main Street Partnership's goal of promoting pragmatic governance and economic development.

Todd Whiteman, as Chief of Staff to Rep. Bill Huizenga, invitation to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City, Utah, reflects his role as a key figure in advancing agendas and fostering connections within Congress. Given the tour's focus on visiting crucial sites such as the Nammo facility, Wells Fargo Center, and BioMeriuex R&D facility, Whiteman's presence ensures representation and engagement with pertinent industries and stakeholders.

Andrea Grace, as Chief of Staff to Rep. Mike Lawler, likely possesses a keen understanding of legislative priorities and interests, making her presence valuable on the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour. Given the diverse range of locations being visited, including a Nammo facility, the Wells Fargo Center, and a BioMeriuex R&D facility, her insights can contribute to discussions on economic development, national security, and healthcare research, aligning with the Republican Main Street Partnership's agenda. Additionally, her participation ensures effective communication between Rep. Lawler's office and the partnership, fostering collaboration and exchange of ideas on policy initiatives.

Amanda Bihl, Chief of Staff to Rep. Dan Newhouse, is invited to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City, Utah, due to her role as a key figure in the congressman's office. Her participation underscores the importance of engaging with diverse industries and communities, as the tour includes visits to significant sites such as the Nammo facility, the Wells Fargo Center, and BioMeriuex R&D facility. This opportunity allows Bihl to gain valuable insights, foster relationships, and exchange ideas crucial for advancing Rep. Newhouse's legislative agenda and better serving his constituents.

Joe Ellis, as Chief of Staff to Rep. Max Miller, is invited to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City, Utah, due to his influential role within the congressman's office and knowledge of legislative issues. His attendance ensures representation from Rep. Miller's office and provides an opportunity to network with other leaders and stakeholders during visits to the Nammo facility, the Wells Fargo Center, and a BioMeriuex R&D facility. Additionally, Ellis's participation will offer insights into the current economic, technological, and research landscape, including the diverse industries represented by the tour sites, such as defense, finance, and biotechnology.

As Chief of Staff to Rep. Julia Letlow, Ted Verrill is invited to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City due to his influential role within Letlow's team and his potential to network and build relationships with other Congressional and industry leaders. The tour's itinerary, featuring visits to diverse sites including a Nammo facility, the Wells Fargo Center, and a BioMeriuex R&D facility, presents opportunities for Verrill to gain insights into various industries and policy areas relevant to Letlow's constituency. Additionally, exploring sites within Park City offers a chance for Verrill to engage with local stakeholders and deepen his understanding of regional issues impacting Utah and beyond.

Andrew Renteria, as Chief of Staff to Rep. David Valadao, received an invitation to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour due to his influential role within the congressman's office. His presence on the tour not only signifies Rep. Valadao's interest in the issues and industries being visited, such as defense technology, finance, and biotechnology, but also provides an opportunity for networking and collaboration with other Congressional leaders and stakeholders. Additionally, his participation could contribute to fostering relationships with constituents and industry representatives in Salt Lake City and Park City, potentially benefiting both Rep. Valadao's district and his broader legislative agenda.

As Chief of Staff to Rep. David Rouzer, Anna McCormack plays a crucial role in shaping legislative priorities and forging connections within Congress. Given the tour's itinerary, which includes visits to key industrial, financial, and research facilities, McCormack's presence will facilitate networking opportunities, foster collaboration, and provide valuable insights for Rep. Rouzer's policy initiatives and constituency concerns.

Joshua Bradley, as Chief of Staff to Rep. Nathaniel Moran, is invited to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City because of his influential position and expertise in legislative affairs. His presence ensures direct communication between Rep. Moran's office and the tour organizers, facilitating potential collaborations and exchanges of information. Additionally, Bradley's insights could contribute to discussions on policy matters relevant to the tour destinations, such as defense technology at the Nammo facility or financial regulations at the Wells Fargo Center, enhancing the overall value of the experience for participants.

Karen Navarro, as Chief of Staff to Rep. Monica De La Cruz, is invited to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City, Utah, due to her role in facilitating bipartisan collaboration and understanding. Her presence signifies a commitment to exploring diverse perspectives and engaging with industries important to the region's economy, such as defense, finance, and biotechnology. Through this tour, Navarro can foster relationships and gather insights, benefiting both her and the constituents of TX-15.

Mark Dreiling, Chief of Staff to Rep. Don Bacon, is invited to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City, Utah, due to his expertise in legislative affairs. His presence ensures representation from Rep. Bacon's office and strengthens ties between the Congressman and industry stakeholders. Additionally, Dreiling's insights will prove valuable during visits to the Nammo facility, the Wells Fargo Center, the BioMeriueX R&D facility, and other sites, enhancing the tour's effectiveness and fostering collaboration between public and private sectors.

Andrew Ross, as Chief of Staff to Rep. Michael McCaul, possesses valuable insights into legislative priorities and interests that align with the Republican Main Street Partnership's objectives. His attendance at the field tour of Salt Lake City, Utah, allows for meaningful engagement and exchange of ideas between congressional staff and representatives from diverse sectors, including defense, finance, and biotechnology. Ross's presence ensures that perspectives from Rep. McCaul's office are represented, fostering collaboration and informing policy decisions that benefit both the district and his broader legislative agenda.

Jackson Gross, as Chief of Staff to Rep. John James, received an invitation to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City, Utah, due to his influential role within the Congressman's office and his expertise in policy matters. His attendance could provide valuable insights and perspectives on key issues relevant to the tour's agenda, including defense technology (Nammo facility), financial services (Wells Fargo Center), biomedical research (BioMeriueX R&D facility), and economic development (Park City).

Rachel Wagley, Chief of Staff to Rep. Blake Moore, is invited to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City, Utah, due to her influential role in Representative Moore's office and knowledge of Utah-specific issues. Her presence ensures that the Congressman's interests and perspectives are represented during the tour, fostering collaboration and engagement with important stakeholders. Additionally, as a key figure in the congressman's team, Wagley's participation enhances the tour's effectiveness in showcasing the diverse economic and innovation landscape of Salt Lake City and its surrounding areas to Republican Main Street Partnership members.

Jared Powell, Chief of Staff to Rep. Cathy McMorris Rodgers, has been invited to the Republican Main Street Partnership field tour of Salt Lake City, Utah, due to his expertise on relevant legislative issues. His presence ensures representation from Rep. McMorris-Rodgers' office and facilitates networking opportunities with key stakeholders from diverse sectors such as defense (Nammo facility), finance (Wells Fargo Center), and healthcare (BioMeriueX R&D facility). Additionally, Powell's participation underscores the importance of engaging with various industries and communities within his offices' legislative agenda, making the tour more comprehensive and impactful.
