Ms. Olivia Speno
Office of the Honorable David G. Valadao
2465 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Ms. Speno:

Pursuant to House Rule 25, clause 5(d)(2), the Committee on Ethics hereby approves your proposed trip to Tajikistan, scheduled for April 12 to 19, 2025, sponsored by United Nations Foundation and Eleanor Crook Foundation.

You must complete an Employee Post-Travel Disclosure Form (which your employing Member must also sign) and file it, together with a Sponsor Post-Travel Disclosure Form completed by the trip sponsor, with the Clerk of the House within 15 days after your return from travel. As part of that filing, you are also required to attach a copy of this letter and both the Traveler and Primary Trip Sponsor Forms (including attachments) you previously submitted to the Committee in seeking pre-approval for this trip. If you are required to file an annual Financial Disclosure Statement, you must also report all travel expenses totaling more than $480 from a single source on the "Travel" schedule of your annual Financial Disclosure Statement covering this calendar year. Finally, Travel Regulation § 404(d) also requires you to keep a copy of all request forms and supporting information provided to the Committee for three subsequent Congresses from the date of travel.

Because the trip may involve meetings with foreign government representatives, we note that House employees may accept, under the Foreign Gifts and Decorations Act (FGDA), gifts "of minimal value [currently $480] tendered as a souvenir or mark of courtesy" by a foreign government. Any tangible gifts valued in excess of minimal value received from a foreign government must, within 60 days of acceptance, be disclosed on a Form for Disclosing Gifts from Foreign Governments and either turned over to the Clerk of the House, or, with the written approval of the Committee, retained for official use.

¹ Please be aware that the Committee's review of the proposed trip does not extend to either the security situation in the destination country or security related to foreign travel in general. We recommend you contact the Office of House Security (OHS) for a safety and security briefing prior to your departure. OHS may be reached at (202) 226-2044 or ohsstaff@mail.house.gov. House travelers should also register for the U.S. State Department's Smart Traveler Enrollment Program at <https://step.state.gov>.

If you have any further questions, please contact the Committee's Office of Advice and Education at extension 5-7103.

Sincerely,

12. Description of the sponsor's interest in the subject matter of the trip and its role in organizing and/or conducting the trip:

The UN Foundation (UNF) works to educate all Americans, including the U.S. Congress, on the importance of a strong U.S.-UN relationship, with a focus on interconnected issues such as global health, nutrition, sustainable development, and good governance. This learning trip provides an opportunity for policymakers to better understand bilateral and multilateral efforts to strengthen health systems in Tajikistan, respond to food insecurity and nutrition challenges, and promote economic growth and development.

The Eleanor Crook Foundation (ECF) was founded in 1997 with a single goal: to eradicate global malnutrition. ECF invests in research that proves what methods work, policy analysis to drive systems reform, and advocacy that makes the case for urgent action to address this global crisis. In 2017, the Foundation pledged $100 million towards the elimination of global malnutrition.

UNF is organizing all aspects of the program/logistics. UNF handles all outreach to congressional offices and is the contact for planning purposes. UNF received a grant from ECF to partially support this trip. ECF has not played any role in organizing this trip and has not been involved in the selection or invitation of the trip participants.

15b2. Provide the reason for selecting the location of the event or trip:

Over the last 30 years, Tajikistan has made significant, albeit uneven, progress in its development. Emerging in 1997 from a devastating five year long civil war following the breakup of the Soviet Union, the country has achieved relative stability and somewhat steady economic growth, leading to investments in hydropower projects and improvements in agricultural productivity, as well as expanded access to education and healthcare among urban populations. Despite these successes, however, Tajikistan still remains the poorest country in Central Asia and is facing significant risks that could slow or reverse its development journey, including a severe reliance on remittances, under employment and unemployment, limited industrialization, persistent food insecurity, communal trans-boundary tensions, and increasing vulnerability to natural disasters.

During the course of five days in Dushanbe and the Khatlon Region, the delegation will meet with the UN Country Team, U.S. Embassy, and Government of Tajikistan in Dushanbe and the field to see firsthand how the UN and its partners are working to address these fundamental issues and assisting Tajikistan on its path towards long-term self-stability.

In addition, the delegation will explore Tajikistan's nutrition and food security challenges, where nearly 75% of the population live in rural settings and lack regular access to diverse and nutritious foods. As of 2024, approximately 30% of Tajikistan's population is undernourished and about 1/3 of children under the age of five are experiencing severe food poverty. Anemia is also readily prevalent, with reports indicating that around 35% of women of reproductive age suffer from iron and other micronutrient deficiencies. The delegation examine how the UN, private sector, and the Government of Tajikistan are combatting these health threats on multiple fronts, including through the delivery of lifesaving ready-to-use therapeutic and supplementary foods, as well as efforts to foster resilient food systems, reduce unsustainable agriculture practices, and increase access to nourishing diets.

Undernutrition remains a significant public health challenge in Tajikistan, causing preventable deaths and delaying children’s physical and cognitive development. As many as 21% of children under five are stunted (have chronic malnutrition), including 6% who are severely stunted; meanwhile wasting (acute malnutrition) currently stands at 3%, including 1% severely wasted; and underweight at 6%. Many women and children also suffer from micronutrient deficiencies, reflected in high rates of anemia and iodine deficiency.

Support from the U.S. Government is critical to the functioning of these organizations. In Tajikistan, 61% of the national HIV program is funded by external sources. While SEOP attempts to reach as many individuals as possible, demand for these products consistently exceeds the supply, resulting in a long waiting list and unmet needs. WHO, along with vital support from USAID, has worked with the Ministry of Health to improve the availability of assistive products and related services across the entire country, by making these available at the local (primary) health care level.

At the SEOP, the delegation will learn more about these successes as well as the future plans and tour the prosthetics production facility/workshop where orthopedics are designed, manufactured, and patients receive basic rehabilitation services, including wheelchair fitting, assistive product distribution, and patient rehabilitation sessions.

Enroute to Dusti, Adham Musallam, WFP Country Director, will provide the delegation with background on the nutrition situation in the Khatlon Region.

Khatlon, despite being a major agricultural region, has the highest rates of undernutrition in Tajikistan, including stunting, wasting, and underweight children and micronutrient deficiencies, particularly in vitamin A and iron, are widespread. A large portion of the population in Khatlon lives below the poverty line, limiting their access to nutritious food and contributing to food insecurity, while seasonal variations in agriculture and reliance on imported foods have further exacerbated food insecurity and nutrition challenges in the region.

The delegation will visit a MAM treatment center in Dusti district, which has the highest prevalence of wasting (a child who is too thin for his or her height) in Tajikistan. The project was previously funded by USAID (2017-2021) and currently funded by WFP. Through the program, children aged 6-59 months suffering from moderate acute malnutrition are identified and treated by providing them with a ready-to-use supplementary food called Acha Mum. In addition, relevant staff at Primary Healthcare Centers (PHCs) counsel parents/caregivers of the targeted children on proper infant and young child feeding (IYCF) practices. The success of the program is demonstrated by the fact that more than 99% of the children enrolled in the program are fully cured of MAM.

The approach is inclusive of all children, including girls, children with disabilities and developmental delays, and/or are from homes where their first language is different from the language of instruction. The projects aims to sensitize parents, caregivers, local governments, and frontline workers around the need to connect children in institutions with quality pre-primary learning opportunities and create conducive enabling environments that promote the deinstitutionalization of children with developmental difficulties and with learning, physical, psychosocial, mental, or other disabilities.

As part of the WFP initiative, the school canteen has been renovated and equipped with modern kitchen appliances. Additionally, a nutrition center has been established to educate students, teachers, and the broader community on proper nutrition and health dietary practices. The delegation will also review the Tree Plantation and Environmental Sustainability initiative. Within the school, a flourishing fruit garden with over 200 trees has been established, half of which were planted under WFP's Tree Plantation Project in 2014. Tajikistan, with a border of around 800 miles with Afghanistan—the longest in Central Asia—has been deeply affected by the instability in its neighboring country for the past 40 years. As of June 30, 2024, Tajikistan hosts over 10,000 refugees and asylum seekers, with 78% of the country’s refugee population residing in Vahdat, making the city a central hub for refugee assistance and integration efforts, highlighting the city’s importance in ongoing humanitarian support. Visit to Vahdat Youth Centre and Meeting with Young Afghan Refugees

Vahdat, a town in western Tajikistan near Dushanbe, is the only municipality where the Government of Tajikistan permit Afghan refugees to permanently live. As a result, approximately 90% of Vahdat’s 43,200 residents are originally from Afghanistan and are living in the country on a non-permanent basis, as Tajikistan offers no pathways to residency or citizenship to Afghan nationals.

Despite economic challenges and inadequate infrastructure, Vahdat has fostered social cohesion by providing education, healthcare, and livelihood opportunities to refugees since the enactment of Government Resolution #325 in 2000, which the restricted residence of refugees was first enacted. To support the growing refugee population, the United Nations in Tajikistan has partnered with local and international stakeholders to improve infrastructure, including schools, hospitals, and women's centers, including the Vahdat Youth Center.

In partnership with the UN and with significant support from the municipal and federal government, the Vahdat Youth Center provides free extracurricular classes and services to over 2,000 youth and children in Vahdat annually, half of whom are refugees, fostering inclusivity through volunteer engagement. Since establishing the first Computer and Technologies Center (CTA) in 2009, UNHCR has expanded educational and vocational opportunities of the Center by upgrading equipment and facilities.

However, the most famous of the museum's holdings is the "Buddha in Nirvana," an almost 40-foot-long statue made of clay, which is today one of the largest ancient monuments of Buddhism in the world. The statute was uncovered in 1959 in the Buddhist monastery of Ajinateppa, which was active about 1500 years ago and located near Qurghonteppa in southern Tajikistan. The statue holds immense cultural and religious significance to Buddhists across Central Asia.

In 2001, on the eve of the tenth anniversary of Tajikistan's independence, U.S. Embassy Dushanbe sponsored a project to restore the ancient statue at a cost of $30,000. The Ambassador's Fund for Cultural Preservation also provided assistance to construct safe display cases for the museum's other exhibits.
