LA Hotel Justification 2026

We explored numerous hotel options. However, given the characteristics we needed in a hotel to fulfill the purposes of the trip, we had to choose a hotel that exceeded the GSA's stipend for the area. The characteristics we needed in a hotel are:

- 1) Audio/Visual and use of the reception for briefing the group before the morning departure
- 2) Proximity to restaurants and meeting locations to decrease transportation cost and travel time, due to the very brief time for programming
- 3) Safe area where participants can walk outside
- 4) On-site hotel food and beverage options late at night and early in the morning due to the schedule and the early departure to the airport and breakfast included in the room cost.
- 5) Capacity to accommodate a large room block so all staff can stay in a safe location together.

When identifying possibilities that met these qualifications, and had the availability for the group of our size, the selected hotel offered the most competitive rate.

Background:

Traffic Time:

Traffic in and around Los Angeles is incredibly heavy and time consuming. Navigating from one of the other areas of the city, such as Burbank, Hollywood, and Westwood causes a minimum of 30-55 min in the car between stops. Looking at suburbs such as Pasadena added even more time. Due to the brief nature of the trip— 24 hours "on the ground" of programming— we wanted to minimize the group's time in traffic. Therefore, the hotel selected is within central proximity to all site visits and within a short drive to the restaurant at the end of our programming day.

Cost of Transportation:

The cost of providing group transportation in Los Angeles and the surrounding areas is very high per hour. Due to the location of this hotel, we are able to reduce the transportation costs by allowing the group a close drive to dinner on February 19.

Safety:

In specific areas of the city, Los Angeles has struggled with significant safety challenges. As the group of staff can be a high target for crime, we were very mindful to do all that is possible to ensure the safety of our group. Therefore, safety of the neighborhood and walkability was an important factor when considering hotels.

Private space in reception/meeting area with AV/Mac Hook up Capabilities:

In order to gather our group, we wanted a hotel that enabled us to meet and give a brief overview of the day via a slide presentation for the group near the reception without requiring us to reserve a private room (which would increase costs). Few hotels had such space and fewer would allow us to use it. This further restricted the suitable options.

On-Site Hotel Meal Options:

We worked with the hotel to allow for breakfast included in the nightly room rate which lowered per diem meal costs and will save time on transportation on the programming day and travel day.
