Through the Congressional Foresight Initiative, led by CSIS's Congressional Affairs department, CSIS has arranged meetings with government officials, research institutions, and private sector entities in Tokyo, Japan. CSIS was the sole organization responsible for determining the trip itinerary, organizing the trip logistics, and selecting participants.

The Carnegie Corporation of New York (CCNY) funds the CSIS Congressional Foresight Initiative. The objective of this initiative is to enhance Congressional staff's understanding of long-range trends and key changes in the global environment affecting U.S. and international security. On the basis of this understanding, the series fosters new opportunities for bipartisan collaboration to address challenges to international peace and prosperity. The series also considers best practices in long-range strategic planning and its implementation in government drawn from around the globe. The Carnegie Corporation of New York plays no role in selecting the trip participants or determining the meetings that are a part of the itinerary.

Japan was selected for its central importance to U.S. Indo-Pacific strategy. As America's most critical treaty ally in the region and the world's fourth-largest economy, Japan sits at the intersection of the region's most consequential economic, technological, and security dynamics. Tokyo offers unparalleled access to officials, industry leaders, and experts actively shaping regional security architecture. Engaging Japanese counterparts provides unique insight into how a close ally perceives Indo-Pacific competition and the strategic choices the U.S. will face in the coming decades, making Japan an essential destination for congressional staff seeking to deepen their understanding of the alliances that will define American strategy in the region.

Dear Kim,

Over the past months you have distinguished yourself as a thoughtful and engaged member of our 2025-2026 cohort of CSIS Congressional Foresight Initiative fellows. As a part of the fellowship, we are organizing a staff delegation to Japan this April and would like to formally invite you to join us.

This will be a bipartisan delegation of Congressional staff from both the Senate and House. The objective of this capstone trip is to build on the Congressional Foresight Initiative's programming over the past year, in order to enhance your understanding of long-range trends and key changes in the global environment affecting U.S. and international security. Over the course of seven days, we will meet with experts, industry leaders, and government officials in Tokyo to explore the future of the U.S.-Japan alliance, focusing on Indo-Pacific strategy from both an economic and security lens.

This delegation will depart Washington, D.C. on Saturday, April 4 (arriving in Tokyo on Sunday, April 5) and return on Saturday, April 11. We are consulting with the House and Senate Ethics Committees, as well as the U.S. embassies in both countries in planning this trip to ensure that our plans meet the necessary requirements. This trip will be paid for and organized by CSIS, which is a nonprofit, 501(c)(3) organization and as such does not employ lobbyists. The Congressional Foresight Initiative is made possible through support from the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

We hope that you are able to join us for what will surely be an enriching professional experience. Please contact Shivani Vakharia (SVakharia@csis.org) if you are able to travel with us and submit this letter, along with the itinerary and necessary disclosure forms to your Ethics Committee no later than Thursday, March 5, 2026. Please find attached the necessary documents to obtain approval from your offices and your relevant Ethics Committee. We will contact you soon regarding next steps and provide additional information as we get closer to the departure date.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. Waskowsky:

Pursuant to House Rule 25, clause 5(d)(2), the Committee on Ethics hereby approves your proposed trip to Japan,¹ scheduled for April 4 to 11, 2026, sponsored by Center for Strategic and International Studies and Carnegie Corporation of New York.

You must complete an Employee Post-Travel Disclosure Form (which your employing Member must also sign) and file it, together with a Sponsor Post-Travel Disclosure Form completed by the trip sponsor, with the Clerk of the House within 15 days after your return from travel. As part of that filing, you are also required to attach a copy of this letter and both the Traveler and Primary Trip Sponsor Forms (including attachments) you previously submitted to the Committee in seeking pre-approval for this trip. If you are required to file an annual Financial Disclosure Statement, you must also report all travel expenses totaling more than $525 from a single source on the "Travel" schedule of your annual Financial Disclosure Statement covering this calendar year. Finally, Travel Regulation § 404(d) also requires you to keep a copy of all request forms and supporting information provided to the Committee for three subsequent Congresses from the date of travel.

Because the trip may involve meetings with foreign government representatives, we note that House employees may accept, under the Foreign Gifts and Decorations Act (FGDA), gifts "of minimal value [currently $525] tendered as a souvenir or mark of courtesy" by a foreign government. Any tangible gifts valued in excess of minimal value received from a foreign government must, within 60 days of acceptance, be disclosed on a Form for Disclosing Gifts from Foreign Governments and either turned over to the Clerk of the House, or, with the written approval of the Committee, retained for official use.

¹ Please be aware that the Committee's review of the proposed trip does not extend to either the security situation in the destination country or security related to foreign travel in general. We recommend you contact the Office of House Security (OHS) for a safety and security briefing prior to your departure. OHS may be reached at (202) 226-2044 or ohsstaff@mail.house.gov.
