- Ms. Karen Schinnerer – Minister Counselor for Public Diplomacy

9:30 am-10:30 am Panel 1 – Tax policy, debt, and government spending

A panel discussion about the fiscal challenges facing the United States and Italy, two countries that share the distinction of carrying some of the heaviest debt-to-GDP ratios among their peers. The panelists will discuss the difficult balance between promoting economic growth, meeting the needs of citizens, and reining in historically high levels of government spending and debt. The conversation will also examine how these fiscal pressures are shaping tax policy on both sides of the Atlantic, including the unresolved question of how to tax digital services in a global economy. With the OECD's efforts to create a multilateral framework having stalled, some countries – including Italy – have moved forward with their own digital services taxes, raising concerns in the United States about the impact on American companies.

- Representative Darin LaHood (R-IL)
- Representative Ron Estes (R-KS)
- Representative Tom Suozzi (D-NY)
- Representative Blake Moore (R-UT)
- Moderator: The Honorable Dave Camp – Chair, the Franklin Center for Global Policy Exchange

(FRIDAY CONTINUED)

10:45 am-11:45 am Panel 2 – U.S.-EU trade

A panel discussion focusing on the trade priorities of the United States and the European Union and the ways our countries can increase mutually beneficial commerce. While U.S.-Italy trade flows through the EU framework, that bilateral relationship carries its own dynamics, as recent disputes over Italian agricultural exports to the United States have shown. The panelists will discuss the implementation of the new U.S.-EU trade agreement and what it means for businesses and consumers on both sides of the Atlantic. The conversation will also explore the challenges of navigating trade relations during a period of significant uncertainty, including a Supreme Court ruling on tariff authority that has reshaped the legal landscape of U.S. trade policy.

- Representative Adrian Smith (R-NE)
- Representative Linda T. Sánchez (D-CA)
- Representative Terri Sewell (D-AL)
- Representative Aaron Bean (R-FL)
- Mr. Aaron Pugliesi – Head of Advocacy, Strategy Implementation & Regional Network, American Chamber of Commerce in Italy
- Moderator: The Honorable Dave Camp – Chair, the Franklin Center for Global Policy Exchange

11:45 am-12:15 pm Keynote speaker – Technology and the transatlantic alliance

Artificial intelligence, quantum computing and next-generation networks are reshaping both economic competitiveness and national security. In these keynote remarks, a senior Italian diplomat will discuss how the United States and Italy can deepen their cooperation on artificial intelligence, quantum technologies, cybersecurity, and 6G networks. He will also address the computing power and energy infrastructure these technologies require, and the importance of trusted technology partnerships among allies, including initiatives like Pax Silica. He will address Italy's ambition to serve as a technological bridge between the United States and Europe. Finally, he will share how Italy is approaching AI governance through its national AI law and strategy, and how allied nations can encourage innovation while protecting individual rights.

- Ambassador Armando Varricchio – Special Envoy for Innovation and New Technologies, Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation, Republic of Italy
- Session leader: Representative Darin LaHood (R-IL) – Co-Chair of the Franklin Center's Congressional Honorary Board

12:15 pm-1:00 pm Lunch with policy discussions on the future of U.S.-Italian relations

Each Member of Congress will lead a small lunch discussion following up on the keynote speaker session they just heard earlier in the day.

1:00 pm-1:30 pm Walk back to hotels

1:30 pm-5:00 pm Historian-led visits to various locations around Rome – paid for at personal expense

9:00 pm-9:30 pm Depart dinner via bus for hotels

9:30 pm-11:00 pm After dinner coffee at hotels

Saturday, November 7, 2026

7:00 am-8:15 am Breakfast at hotels

8:15 am-9:00 am Depart hotels via buses for Palazzo Brancaccio for policy panel sessions

9:00 am-10:00 am Panel 3 – Energy and climate change

A panel discussion on the future of energy production in the United States, Italy, and the European Union. The conversation will examine how both countries are pursuing a more affordable and stable energy mix, including the role of natural gas, renewables, and nuclear power. The panel will also explore how Russia's invasion of Ukraine has reshaped energy security in Europe, where countries like Italy have had to rapidly diversify away from Russian gas – an effort in which growing U.S. energy exports have played an important role. Finally, the panelists will discuss climate change and whether continued technological innovation and cleaner energy sources are sufficient to address these concerns, or whether further government action will be necessary.

- Representative Rick Larsen (D-WA)
- Representative Stephanie Bice (R-OK)
- Professor Francesco Corvaro – Special Envoy for Climate Change of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation and the Ministry of Environment and Energy Security, Republic of Italy
- Moderator: Mr. John Byers – Chief of Staff, Rep. August Pfluger (R-TX)

10:00 am-10:15 am Break

10:15 am-11:00 am Panel 4 – U.S.-Italy defense cooperation and the future of NATO

A panel discussion about the military collaboration between the United States and Italy, one of America's most strategically located NATO allies in the Mediterranean. The conversation will explore the state of the bilateral defense relationship and Italy's role in maintaining security in Europe and beyond. The panelists will also discuss the future of the NATO alliance, including how member nations are responding to a new defense spending target that represents a significant increase from the previous benchmark. Finally, the panel will examine what role NATO should play in the world against the backdrop of Russia's ongoing war in Ukraine and other security challenges facing the alliance.

- Representative Andy Barr (R-KY)
- Representative Ed Case (D-HI)
- Representative Mike Bost (R-IL)
- Moderator: Ms. Lesley Byers – Strategic Communications Director, House Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence

(SATURDAY CONTINUED)

11:00 am-12:15 pm Panel 5 – Artificial intelligence: promise, power, and responsibility

A panel discussion about the growth of artificial intelligence and its impact on society, the economy, and humanity. Earlier this year, Pope Leo XIV released his first encyclical, "Magnifica Humanitas," a sweeping statement on the promise and dangers of AI that called on governments, corporations, and individuals to ensure that technological development remains subject to ethical oversight and serves humanity rather than displacing it. With the conference taking place in Rome, the panelists will explore the societal questions raised by the rapid advance of AI, including its effects on work and the economy. The conversation will also examine how the United States and other nations can foster innovation while developing responsible safeguards for these transformative technologies.

- Opening remarks: Ambassador Brian Burch – U.S. Ambassador to the Holy See
- Representative Ben Cline (R-VA)
- Representative Glenn Ivey (D-MD)
- Moderator: Representative Ami Bera (D-CA)

12:15 pm-1:30 pm Lunch with keynote and Panel 6 – Feeding the world

A panel discussion about the challenge of feeding a growing global population at a time when hundreds of millions of people face crisis levels of hunger driven by conflict, displacement, and extreme weather. The panelists will discuss the agricultural policy priorities of the United States, including the efforts of Congress to modernize the farm safety net and support American producers through the 2026 Farm Bill. The conversation will also examine the role of agricultural innovation in increasing food production and sustainability, as well as the work of multilateral organizations like the Rome-based World Food Programme and Food and Agriculture Organization in responding to hunger crises around the world. Finally, the panelists will explore how governments like the United States can most effectively partner with these organizations during a period of reexamination of global assistance.

- Moderator: Representative Terri Sewell (D-AL)

11:30 am-12:00 pm Keynote speaker – The order we built: renewing the transatlantic partnership for a new era

Nearly eight decades ago, the United States and its European allies helped build the institutions that have underpinned peace and prosperity on both sides of the Atlantic. These range from NATO, founded in 1949 with the United States and Italy among its twelve charter members, to the European Economic Community, the forerunner of today's European Union, created by the Treaties of Rome signed in this city in 1957. One of Europe's foremost foreign policy thinkers will share her perspective on what that transatlantic partnership should look like in a new era. She will discuss how a series of national elections across Europe in the coming year could shape the continent's direction, and how European nations are responding to calls to take on greater responsibility for their own defense. She will take questions on the future of U.S.-European cooperation and what each side of the Atlantic needs from the other.

- Dr. Nathalie Tocci – Professor of the Practice, Johns Hopkins University's School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) Europe; Senior Fellow at Bocconi University's Institute for European Policy-Making; former Director, Istituto Affari Internazionali (IAI)

Ms. Lesley Byers
Committee on Intelligence
HVC-304, The Capitol
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Ms. Byers:

Pursuant to House Rule 25, clause 5(d)(2), the Committee on Ethics hereby approves your proposed trip to Italy,[1] scheduled for November 4 to 9, 2026, sponsored by the Ripon Society and the Franklin Center for Global Policy Exchange.

You must complete an Employee Post-Travel Disclosure Form (which your employing Member must also sign) and file it, together with a Sponsor Post-Travel Disclosure Form completed by the trip sponsor, with the Clerk of the House within 15 days after your return from travel. As part of that filing, you are also required to attach a copy of this letter and both the Traveler and Primary Trip Sponsor Forms (including attachments) you previously submitted to the Committee in seeking pre-approval for this trip. If you are required to file an annual Financial Disclosure Statement, you must also report all travel expenses totaling more than $525 from a single source on the "Travel" schedule of your annual Financial Disclosure Statement covering this calendar year. Finally, Travel Regulation § 404(d) also requires you to keep a copy of all request forms and supporting information provided to the Committee for three subsequent Congresses from the date of travel.

Because the trip may involve meetings with foreign government representatives, we note that House employees may accept, under the Foreign Gifts and Decorations Act (FGDA), gifts "of minimal value [currently $525] tendered as a souvenir or mark of courtesy" by a foreign government. Any tangible gifts valued in excess of minimal value received from a foreign government must, within 60 days of acceptance, be disclosed on a Form for Disclosing Gifts from Foreign Governments and either turned over to the Clerk of the House, or, with the written approval of the Committee, retained for official use.

[1] Please be aware that the Committee's review of the proposed trip does not extend to either the security situation in the destination country or security related to foreign travel in general. We recommend you contact the Office of House Security (OHS) for a safety and security briefing prior to your departure. OHS may be reached at (202) 226-2044 or ohsstaff@mail.house.gov. House travelers should also register for the U.S. State Department's Smart Traveler Enrollment Program at https://step.state.gov.

If you have any further questions, please contact the Committee's Office of Advice and Education at extension 5-7103.

Sincerely,

Michael Guest
